New-York Daily Times.

VOL. V.....NO. 1337. NEW-YORK, MONDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1855. PRICE TWO CENTS.

THE NICARAGUAN FILLIBUSTERS.

DISPATCHES FROM THE CENTRAL SEAT.

The Conspiracy in which Col. French is Implicated.

The following spicy letter explains itself, as well Mr. McKeon's action of conviction. Col. French, we learn, has kept himself concealed since this gentleman tendered of the conspiracy prosecution.

Passengers remained at the Eldridge-street Jail, not having been able thus far to find bail.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW-YORK, U. S. DISTRICT-ATTORNEY'S OFFICE, Dec. 28, 1855.

Sir: On the 24th day of December instant, a complaint under oath was made at this office, that you, together with other persons, had, in this District, [illegible] and organized and equipped the [illegible] for a military expedition or enterprise to be carried on from this country against the territory of the republic of Nicaragua, with whom the United States are at peace. The facts so charged, if true, constitute a violation of the laws of the United States, a misdemeanor of the United States, [illegible] the peace of all nations, and in the affront with a violation of law.

This complaint has been served on all parties therein named with the exception of yourself. I deem it my duty now to state to you the reasons of the delay in the prosecution of the warrant. On the 24th inst. I had an interview with you, in which I stated to you the information I had received in relation to the proposed departure of large bodies of men in the steamer Northern Light on the 26th inst. for the purpose of invading the territory of Nicaragua. You stated to me that you had no such intention, and that the United States Government knew of your intention to go to Nicaragua, and that you had the sanction of the President of the United States for your proceeding, and I did not believe that the President would countenance any proceeding that violated, even courtesy as to his judgment, comported with the dignity of the United States.

From the correspondence, copies of which have since been delivered to you, it appears that you have not been received or acknowledged as a Minister by the Executive of the United States, that you have no right as an accredited Minister. Your position is simply that of a private citizen to the country to which himself an alien and not received by reason of the failure to appear that he represented any lawful Government. The letter of the Attorney-General, copy of which I send you, denies any diplomatic privilege awarded to you, in express terms, and, notwithstanding the fight, and that country would be withdrawn from you as soon as there should be cause to believe that you are engaged in or contemplating any act not consistent with the law, the peace or the public honor of the United States."

Having advised the Attorney-General of the charge against you, and of the proceedings taken thereon, I am now authorized to say that the President, proceeding in the exercise of the fullest consideration for the diplomatic character, desires me to notify you of the pending charge, and that no process will be served upon you, if you shall not become chargeable with any violation of the laws, and shall depart from the country, within a reasonable time.

By the Constitution of the United States, a privilege of exemption from arrest is secured to the members of Congress, and, in accordance with the settlings of policy, to and including from Congress, the privilege is extended to members of Legislatures. Witnesses under certain circumstances are exempt from arrest. But in all these cases the exemption is strictly construed by our Courts. Whilst it is important that the agents of the people and witnesses shall be properly protected, it is also just that citizens having claims shall not be deprived of their just rights by the improper exercise of this exemption. In the course of the courtesy extended to you in that of going to Washington and returning to the foreign country from whence you claim to reside, you have, within a reasonable time. In the hope that no further complaint will be made, allowed you, trusting to you my best wishes for your safe return to your own country,

I remain, your obedient servant,

JOHN McKEON,
District Attorney United States.

To Parker H. French, Esq.,
care of the Commissioner.

Collector Redfield has entered Mr. McKeon that Farnsworth has been suspended, and Cameron removed from their offices in the Custom-House; also that Hall has resigned.

It is stated that President Fillmore as Commander-in-Chief of the Navy, and Hon. John McKeon will be legally prosecuted against by the Nicaraguan Transit Company, for the illegal detention of their ship.

Major Gaston B. Hall declies that he made use of the expression which he is charged with making in the Eldridge-street jail on Friday evening, while visiting Farnsworth. Such language is not his habit.

Marine Disaster—Twenty-five Persons Saved.

Capt. Bunt, of bark Mary Adams, from Palermo, arrived at this port on Saturday, reports:

Dec. 22, lat. 36° 10', long. 69° 55', fell in with schooner Eagle house, of and for Bermuda, dismasted, and took from her nine persons. The ship Kossuth, of Bath, from Boston for Savannah, was lying by at the same time, and took on board the remainder of the Eagle's company.

Dec. 27, lat. 37° 00', long. 71', fell in with ship Rebec, of New-York, from New-Orleans for Liverpool, with a cargo of cotton and grain, dismasted, and in a sinking condition. Took off the ship's company, comprising 16 persons, the sea being so high it was not deemed prudent to attempt to save anything belonging to the ship.

The Burlington Tragedy.

The trial of Isaac Adams, the engineer on the Camden and Amboy Railroad at the time of the Burlington accident, for manslaughter, in causing the death of Margaret Passmore, was commenced at Mount Holly on Friday last. No new facts have been elicited.

News from Texas.

We have San Antonio papers to the 15th inst.; Austin, 18th; Galveston, 19th.

The San Antonio Texan says:

"By a private letter dated Bandera City, Nov. 12, we learn that the Indians had been killing cattle; and the writer remarks that the soldiers were encamped 12 miles above, and he and another person had to travel most of the day to inform them of these Indian depredations. Bandera City is some seventy miles from San Antonio. Our country is so large that it is almost impossible to prevent the Indians from coming down to the settlements."

At the municipal election in Austin, on the 19th inst., Mr. N. H. Pease, the American Party candidate, was elected Mayor by a majority of fifty-four over Mr. R. T. Lane, the Democratic candidate.

The Austin State Times furnishes us with a summary of Legislative proceedings, but it contains little of general interest. The Senate has concurred in the House bill increasing the salary of the Governor to $2,000 per annum. The Senate had laid on the table the Public Debt bill until Wednesday last, 19th inst."

The same paper has a letter dated Cypress Spring, Mason County, Dec. 7, from which we take the following extract:

"On my arrival here I learn of much excitement on the 'Sandies' tributaries of the Colorado, and comprehend a settlement of seventy-five families. The Indians have made a descent, stealing in their midst a number of horses, and wounding several others that were fired with the arrows still sticking in them.

Mr. Burnside, an old Texian, who has passed a large part of his youthful period in the captivity of the Comanches, and who speaks the dialect of the tribes living west of Texas with native fluency, has been delegated by the people of the Sandies to conclude a peace with the Indians, who are supposed to be the tribe principal in outrage.

Mr. Burnside has performed his mission to the best of his ability, with no other result than that of being informed that this tribe only await a favorable season of the year when they will commence and prosecute a system of indiscriminate rapine, theft and bloodshed upon the people in that part of the country."

The Indianola Bulletin of the 14th has the following, which is important if true":

"A rumor has reached here that our fellow-townsman, Dr. Janet Sowell, has succeeded in obtaining a quarter of a million of dollars, and that he will be here in a few days, to commence the building of a railroad from here to El Paso, upon a charter granted him at the last session of the Legislature. This is said to be the best charter in the State, and will doubtless be the beginning of the great Pacific Road."

Mr. Brown, one of the editors of the Galveston Civilian and a member of the Legislature, writes from Austin on the 18th inst.:

"The fate of the Texas Debt act of Congress, in my opinion, is doubtful. In the House it is thought by some well-informed men it will have from two to five majority in its favor; and in the Senate one. This is for Congress to move about on the subject."

The News notices the arrival of materials for the Galveston, Houston and Henderson Railroad, says:

"Twenty miles of this road is now graded, and the ties that have arrived yesterday and Saturday by the bay to Virginia Point, Sunday, Sty. hands are now engaged in grading, but additional hands will commence laying the ties and iron next week."

LATEST INTELLIGENCE

By Telegraph to the New-York Daily Times.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Proceedings in the House on Saturday.

Peremptory Demand for the Recall of Mr. Crampton.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Dec. 30.

The adjournment was carried yesterday, and the organization again postponed by the defection of a few professed Republicans. Watch the yeas and nays, and notice who votes for adjournments and who votes against. True Republicans will do neither at this crisis.

Another influence which contributed to the defeat yesterday, was the concentration of six votes on Fuller, which encouraged the disheartened and yielding opposition to hope that to-morrow Banks might be dropped and a new man presented. Depend upon it, this hope will be disappointed.

The mass of the Republicans are firm in the conviction that to drop Banks will be a virtual defeat, and are resolved therefore to stand or fall with him.

Prominent Richardson men say to-day that Banks will be elected to-morrow. This seems to be the general conviction, but may again be disappointed.

Mr. Marcy has answered Lord Clarendon's last dispatch in the illicit recruiting case, and has peremptorily demanded Mr. Crampton's recall. Mark this. S.

Mr. Banks nearly Elected—The Report of the Herrin Trial—Chief Justice Taney.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Dec. 30.

Mr. Banks last week, on one or two occasions, obtained precisely votes enough for the election of a Speaker, but, before the result could be announced, several gentlemen who had been sent for hurriedly entered the House and cast their suffrages for another, thus turning the scale.

The report of the trial of Herrn, in the British enlistment case, published in the Pennsylvanian, has been sworn to by the phonographer as correct, and has been filed in the State Department as an authentic record of the proceedings.

Owing to continued sickness, Chief Justice Taney is not expected to take his seat on the bench during the present term of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Administration Uneasy—Firmness of the Republicans—The Wilmot Proviso Sustained by Southern Men—The Position of Robinson G. Hayes—The Plurality Resolution, &c.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Dec. 29, 1855.

As I write, the eightieth vote for Speaker is taking, being the third to-day, without any material change. Still I am quite confident that Banks will be elected ere adjournment. The President stated this morning to a friend that the House would organize to-day—a distinct indication of his purpose to aid in effecting that result. Richardson says he is tired of the contest, and that it must end. But the trouble is to tell how to end it.

PRESSURE ON THE ADVANCE SEAT.

The Administration is anxious for the solution, but finds difficulty in controling it. The firmness of the Republican column has astounded and dismayed the Administration Party, and the success of the National Know-Nothings in proving themselves better Pro-Slavery men than the supporters of Mr. Richardson, has excited serious concern in the breasts of many Southern Democrats, who fear they will be routed at home by the "Americans." Under these circumstances no individual Richardson man likes to take the responsibility of dodging the vote, and so permitting Banks's election, for fear that he will be handled severely for it on the stump by an "American" competitor. On the other hand, the Northern Nebraska men feel that their only possible chance of safety lies in breaking down Mr. Banks, and so they are loath to aid indirectly in his elevation.

POSSIBLE CONTINGENCIES.

Nevertheless the thing has to be done; and if the Banks men are all true, and insist on prolonging the session to-day until a result is obtained, my prediction will be fulfilled. The danger is on side propositions, motions for adjournment, &c., &c., which, though too often sustained by professed "Anti-Nebraska men, are really just as much of "aid and comfort" as the enemy ask or need. Another obstacle in the way of organization is the fact that the South Carolina delegation and some few other straggling Democrats, differ from the Administration men, and are anxious to secure the organization and its patronage. These are fighting desperately to prolong the contest, in the hope that eventually they can get Mr. Otis in the Chair by some such indirect road as that suggested by Lewis D. Campbell's resolution of Wednesday, if not by a compromise between the Know-Nothings and Richardson men. This element of the contest, as you will perceive, aids in defeating Banks' election by default.

SOUTHERN MEN SUSTAINING WILMOT'S PROVISO.

The resolution introduced yesterday by Mr. Seward, of Ga., proposing the election of Mr. Richardson by the union of all friends of non-intervention in the Slavery question, was simply a proposition to "retire from active service" the Democratic Caucus platform, in the hope that it would bring the Know-Nothings to a vote for the Caucus nominee. It failed, however, as it met with opposition from those Democrats who understood the programme, and don't want Richardson elected, and was spurned also by the Know-Nothings themselves, who insist upon having the compromise candidate for whom they will vote. The little debate upon the resolution brought Humphrey Marshall out, and compelled him, as the leader of the Know-Nothings, to take the extremest Pro-Slavery ground. It also involved Thomas L. Clingman, of N. C., in the admission of the power of Congress to admit or prohibit Slavery in the Territories—which, of course, is a distinct admission of the constitutionality of the Wilmot Proviso.

HAVEN JOINED TO HIS IDOLS.

Among the dozen gentlemen who elected as Anti-Nebraska men, have proved treacherous to their professions, and exerted their best abilities by covert indirection to secure the triumph of the Administration and its Pro-Slavery supporters, there is none who so severely deserves rebuke as does Solomon G. Haven of Buffalo. From the beginning he has voted with the "stragglers." His first love was Henry M. Fuller,—and he stood by that gentleman day after day, notwithstanding he was satisfactory to the Pro-Slavery Know-Nothings—until Mr. Fuller was roasted out upon the floor, and made to confess that he received these Southern votes because he was opposed to the restoration of the Missouri Compromise, and ready to vote for the admission of Kansas as a Slave State!

When that revelation was made, Haven turned pale. His agitation was visible to everybody who chose to observe him. He had repeatedly, since his arrival here this Winter, declared that he was in favor of, and would vote for, the restoration of the Missouri restriction, as a dozen of his colleagues will testify, if necessary. Of course in the face of this development, he could not consistently vote for Fuller, however safe it might have been before that gentleman's sentiments had been publicly exposed. He saw this, and after writhing a few hours longer on the Fuller hook, detached himself, and threw his vote "around loose;" yesterday he declared himself ill, and induced Mr. Bowarne to pair off with him for the day, presumably determined you see, that his betrayed constituents should not profit even by the interposition of Providence. As, under the Plurality rule, should it be adopted, Mr. Bowarne's vote would be of far more value than Mr. Haven's for "scattering," the former doubtless would not have agreed to pair off with him, had not Haven declared that he would vote for James L. Orr, of South Carolina, rather than permit the success of Mr. Banks. After having reached this depth of political infamy, it is not at all surprising that Mr. Haven should this morning again cast his vote for Fuller. Will the freemen of Buffalo mark this conduct of their representative? "He is joined to his idols—let him alone."

THE PLURALITY RESOLUTION.

The Administration leaders are to-day exceedingly anxious that the Banks men should again move the plurality resolution. If they would do so, enough Administration men would sustain it to carry it through, and the election of Mr. Banks would be settled upon the first ballot. But the friends of Mr. Banks are not now anxious to take the plurality, unless it shall be generally voted for by the Opposition, for they feel that the time is rapidly approaching, if not already come, when the Administration must yield the contest, without the slightest concession from the Republicans.

Since I commenced my letter several ballots have been had, and Mr. Pennington on the last received five votes. This division, however, is only temporary. The House has already refused to adjourn by a vote of 19 to 179, and I think ere midnight there will be gentlemen of the Democratic side of the House too drowsy to hear their names called on the ballot. It is to be regretted, however, that some of our friends still continue to pair off with the Opposition. I cannot regard this as excusable at this time under any ordinary circumstances.

It is stated that Mr. Moore, of Ohio, yesterday, when Banks wanted only three of an election, proposed to Mr. Scott, of Ind., and Mr. Harrison, of Ohio, to unite with him in changing their votes to Banks, and so decide the contest at once. They declined the proposition, notwithstanding they have heretofore indicated a readiness to vote for Banks whenever their votes would elect him.

THE NICARAGUA FILLIBUSTERS.

It is difficult to understand where the correspondents of some of your cotemporaries learn that the action of the authorities in breaking up the Northern Light fillibusters is "universally condemned here." On the contrary, I find the almost universal expression to be precisely the reverse.

THE RETIRING BOARD TO BE SUSTAINED.

The President and the Secretary of the Navy now fully acknowledge that the finding of the Board has resulted in serious injustice in some cases. I am not sure that they justify the failure of the board to keep a record of its proceedings. But they do think that upon the whole it has accomplished a great good to the Navy, and that the individual cases of injustice can be essentially remedied without abrogating the action of the Board and beginning de novo as is desired.

THE ONLY REMEDIES WHICH ARE REASONABLE.

My decided impression is that the President will indicate a disposition to restore, by renomination, such officers as, in the opinion of the Navy Department, are clearly entitled to restoration. He will also encourage and facilitate some legislation for the relief of meritorious officers who, by "retiring" or furlough, have been placed in the same category with officers whose mental or moral incapacity has led to their loss of place on the active service list, and will, perhaps, favor an appropriation of a year's pay to all officers who have been dropped. It will readily be perceived that by pursuing this course the executive will take away from the complainants a very large part of their available capital before Congress, and so will render his position in favor of sustaining the action of the Board generally a very strong one. I trust our naval friends will not charge your correspondent's conclusions with being the offspring of his wishes. Eventually they will find these views confirmed, and they will do well to bear them in mind in future prosecution of their efforts for redress such as they desire.

THE TIMES FORESHADOWING.

May I not, without egotism, call your attention the fact that the official correspondence brought out by the recent proceedings against the Northern Light "emigrants," has again established the truth of your correspondent's foreshadowings of our Government's action in respect to the Walker Government in Nicaragua, and its Minister, Parker H. French. I rely confidently upon the publication of the official correspondence in the illicit British recruiting affair, to equally vindicate all I have written you upon that subject also. A studied persistent effort has been made from the beginning to create the impression that our Government passed over Mr. Crampton altogether, and chose to forget him in the anxiety to get directly at John Bull. The sequel will show that the very commencement of the correspondence on the subject consisted of the most direct and serious charges against the British minister—charges from which Mr. Marcy can never recede, because they were based upon positive proofs then and now in his possession. Of course it is within the province of the President to let Mr. Crampton slide,—but can he do so under such circumstances as these, when our diplomatic records contain already the story of that official's accusation and conviction of serious offences against our laws!

CONGRESSIONAL DECORUM.

Gentlemen will do well to take a little pains to preserve the dignity and decorum of the House. It is to be hoped that not many individuals having wit enough to get to Congress, will be as absent-minded as was a certain member from the refined and cultivated state of Georgia to-day, who paraded himself in front of the Clerk's desk for some time with a cigar in his mouth, and his hat stuck stiffly on the back of his head. If the Clerk or the Sergeant-at-Arms had taken the liberty of hinting to him the impropriety of his conduct, he doubtless would have thanked them for the service.

WHO IS HE?

A genteel, harmless, nice looking young man, with long surtout, buttoned resolutely up to his chin, took a seat a day or two since upon the rostrum alongside the Clerk, and occupied it for two or three hours. He was a stranger to many of the members, who, remembering that it is not in order for even one of their own number to approach the Clerk when a vote is being taken, were in something of a quandary to know who he was, and were much surprised to learn that it was the President's private Secretary—who has just as much right within the bar as has John Jones, of the lobby, and not a whit more. S.

XXXIVth CONGRESS—First Session.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Dec. 29.

Two ballots were taken on assembling, the last resulting as follows:

Mr. Banks	100	Mr. Pennington	8
Mr. Fuller	82	Scattering	5
Mr. Richardson	69

Necessary for a choice, 103.

The vote on the sixth ballot stood:

Mr. Banks	100	Mr. Pennington	5
Mr. Fuller	80	Scattering	5
Mr. Richardson	68

Mr. Smith, of Va., made a brief statement to show that Mr. Banks had left the American Party and joined the Fusionists for the express purpose and design of resisting what he calls the aggressions of Slavery.

Mr. Gnow, in reply, said that those voting for Mr. Banks understood their duties, without instruction or advice from the other side of the House.

Mr. Smith responded, saying he wished the country to understand the character of the man the Fusionists were voting for.

Two further ballots were then taken, the last resulting as follows:

Mr. Banks	96	Mr. Fuller	20
Mr. Richardson	86	Mr. Pennington	6

Messrs. Whitney, Powell, Williams and Orr received one vote each.

It was now 5½ o'clock, and Mr. Marshall moved an adjournment, which was negatived by 91 majority.

At 6 o'clock the motion to adjourn was renewed by Mr. Orr, and carried by 10 majority.

Messrs. Stanton and Kay Wood announced off their pairs on the adjournment.

Congress, Friday, Dec. 28.

The [illegible] Speaker, Mr. Richardson on the morning of the 19th inst., and from Key West on the evening of the same day, arrived here to-day. There is no news of importance in the vicinity.

The steamship [illegible] of the Pacific, from San Francisco, and two days later than the mail steamer, arrived at Key West on the 20th inst., and left again the same evening for New-York.

The mail steamship from New-Orleans for Havana, which put in at Key West, left on the 19th inst., but was put off without passengers.

The Maine Law Approved by the Queen of England.

ALBANY, Saturday, Dec. 29.

A copy of an order in Council, dated at the Court of Windsor Castle, Nov. 21, 1855, was this morning received at the office of the Prohibitionist, in this city. In it her Majesty gives her official sanction to the Prohibitory Liquor Law of the Province of New-Brunswick, and directs the Governor or Commander-in-Chief, and all other persons whom it may concern, to be governed thereby accordingly. The law takes effect on the 1st of January next.

Destruction of the Gas Works at Middletown, Conn.

MIDDLETOWN, Sunday, Dec. 30.

The Gas Works in this place took fire about 3 o'clock this morning from the purifier. The chain to which was attached the weight, broke, and the weight fell upon the purifier, making a hole and letting off the gas. A terrific explosion followed, tearing off the roof and forcing out the walls of the building.

Railroad Accident.

BOSTON, Saturday, Dec. 29.

At Palmyra, Me., on Thursday evening, a Mr. Coffin, and two young ladies named Harris, while "coasting," were precipitated over the bank of a river a distance of forty rods, and Coffin and one of the ladies were drowned, and the other was so badly injured that it is feared she cannot survive.

The Pittsburg and Steubenville Railroad.

PITTSBURG, Saturday, Dec. 29.

Our City Council has granted for the payment of the interest on the city bonds, issued to the Steubenville Railroad, due on the 1st January, at the office of Messrs. Duncan, Sherman & Co., in New-York.

The river here measures 6 feet 11 inches, and is falling.

Death of Nicholas Devereux.

UTICA, Saturday, Dec. 29.

Nicholas Devereux, a prominent citizen, and one of the Managers of the State Lunatic Asylum, died at 6 o'clock this morning, aged 61 years.

Snow Storm in the West.

BOSTON, Sunday, Dec. 30.

About eight inches of snow fell here last night. The weather has been cold and clear to-day, and there is excellent sleighing.

Arrival of the Marion at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, Saturday, Dec. 29.

The steamship Marion, from New-York, arrived at her wharf here at 12 o'clock this (Saturday) morning.

Arrival of the Augusta at Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Sunday, Dec. 30.

The steamer Augusta arrived here to-day from New-York at 12 M., with all on board safe.

Note from Mr. Valk.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, Saturday, Dec. 29, 1855.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

If your correspondents, when writing of or to me, will but sign their true names, and designate their places of residence, I may deem it proper to notice their communications.

Your ob't serv't, WM. W. VALK, N. Y.

NEW-YORK CITY.

More About the New Church in Fourth-avenue.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

In his address at the dedication of his new and beautiful Church, Dr. Bellows stated that he preferred not to give it the title proposed by some, of "All Saint's," as that might seem to exclude sinners from coming to pray within its precincts, and that he adopted the name of "All Soul's," to indicate that all having souls to save might there address the common Father of Mankind. Will you, Mr. Editor, allow an outsider to take exception to the meaning attached to the two titles by the eloquent and accomplished Unitarian Divine? In the first place, churches should be dedicated only to God, in commemoration of some mystery, or manifestation of his goodness and power. Catholics and Episcopalians consecrate a church to the Most High, under the invocation of his servants, St. Luke, St. James, St. Thomas, &c., &c.; but this dedicating the church to the congregation is something without precedent. The feast of "All Saints" is celebrated on the first day of November, in commemoration of their united virtues. Many churches, beginning with the Pantheon at Rome, have been named in honor of the same object. The feast of "All Souls" is celebrated on the 2d of November, in suffrage of all the faithful departed who are still in a state of purgation, where they may be helped by the prayers of the Church upon earth, in virtue of the communion of Saints, whereby they are united in the communication of the merits of Christ. Now, what reply is to be given to the old-fashioned folks who ask whether Dr. Bellows' congregation believe in Purgatory!—whether they will have solemn High Mass of Requiem for the Dead on the titular feast of their Church,—the 2d of November,—as Bishop Hughes has in St. Patrick's Cathedral? &c., &c. Why, simply that the Doctor does not probably so believe, but that he has borrowed an old and common expression from the Catholic Church, and mystified us by using it in a sense entirely his own. The liberty of thus recoining old currency in words is taken not only by the builders of handsome churches, but more frequently by the authors of new books; and if their meaning is not rightly apprehended, assuredly the writer, and not the reader, must bear the blame. CONSERVATIVE.

Wilson Industrial School.

The Wilson Industrial School held their festival on Friday, at their house No. 127 Avenue A. The exercises were exceedingly pleasant, and in the very highest manner creditable to the pupils, and certainly not less so to their teachers, Miss Robinson and her associates. Addresses were made by several gentlemen, and then the children enjoyed an excellent dinner, and the many Christmas presents, provided by kind friends; both of which they richly deserved, after the remarkably good examination they had passed.

The School numbers about 230 scholars, and is so full the managers have been obliged to refuse admission to any more for the present. It would be difficult to find in any school room a hundred more happy and intelligent appearing, well-behaved girls, than we saw in one of their rooms. All success to the Industrial Schools.

The Omnibus Horses.

It was a pitiful sight on the more crowded and steep inclines of the lower part of the City to witness the frequent falling of the poor reeking, jaded brutes that drew the omnibuses during the fall of the snow on Saturday evening, and hideous to hear the curses of the drivers.

On Friday morning, at the corner of Liberty-street, in Broadway, with the thermometer down below the freezing point, a disabled horse, evidently in great pain, was left for street passengers to gaze at. We left the office at midnight on our way home, the same horse still lay there, beating his head against the stones. Some one had placed a miserable wisp of straw as a cushion. Next morning, at ten, we passed the same spot, and there lay the horse, not yet dead. He was there alive at noon. Humanity was twenty passing the horse, for aught we know, may be there yet. Can sentimental ladies find no right to do about it? An enchantable Republican Chemist the remark, applied with the same propriety, to the wretches who owned him, had made money out of his services, and left him there to die by inches.

Fires.

At 6 o'clock on Saturday afternoon a fire broke out in the house No. 56 [illegible] street, but was extinguished with trifling damage by the First Ward Police. A man named DAVID MILLER, one of the occupants of the house, was badly burned while endeavoring to save the furniture. He was removed to the City Hospital.

FIRE IN SULLIVAN-STREET.

About 7 o'clock on Saturday evening a fire occurred in the rear building, No. 110 Sullivan-street, damage trifling. Evidently the fire in a flannel shirt which had been carelessly placed too near a stove-pipe in the room.

FIRE IN MULBERRY-STREET.

A fire broke out about 10½ o'clock last night, in the grocery store of [illegible], No. 80 Mulberry-street, and was extinguished with a loss of about $200. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Capture of a Burglar.

A German burglar named Henry Brown was captured at 6 o'clock Friday evening while attempting to break into the dwelling of Gil. Coates, No. 148 Fourth-street. He was conveyed to the station house, where on searching him a complete set of burglars' tools were found on him. Brown was taken before Justice Davenport, of the Jefferson Market, who committed him for trial.

Dangerous.

The sidewalks are so very slippery now that pedestrianism is not unattended with danger. A woman slipped and fell on Saturday night in Broadway, near Whitestreet, and fractured her thigh. She was removed to the Hospital.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

Before Judges Ingraham, Daly and Woodruff.

It was announced Saturday morning that the decisions in the [illegible] Term, would be rendered on Monday, to which day the Court was ordered to stand adjourned.

COURT CALENDAR—MONDAY.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Judge Betts will deliver decisions.

COMMON PLEAS—The General Term will deliver decisions.

No jury trials this week.

Beginning with New-Year's Day, the Courts of Law, the Chambers of the Common Council, and the Judges Committee Room, will be closed. Sem. [illegible]

LONG-ISLAND.

Mortality in Brooklyn.

The Health Office reports 92 deaths for the week ending the 29th inst., from the following diseases:

[illegible]

New-Year's Day in Brooklyn.

The Mayor announces that he will receive his friends at the Mayor's office on New-Year's day, from 10 to 12 o'clock.

NEW-JERSEY.

Common Council.

An adjourned meeting of the Jersey City Common Council was held at the City Clerk's office on Saturday at 3 o'clock, P. M., Alderman Jesse President of the Board, in the Chair, and fourteen of the sixteen members present. Various bills, petitions, and communications were presented and referred, and several bills were ordered paid.

Alderman Cole, from the Special Committee on Emblems, delivered to the Board eighteen emblems and the dye from which they were made, together with the bill of $250 for them. They are for presentation—one to the Mayor, one to each of the Aldermen, and one to the City Clerk. They are of gold, with the State arms represented upon the front, which is round, a plain convex back and an octagon border. The ornament is about one and a half inches in diameter. They are the first emblems procured by the municipal authorities of the city, and each bears the name of the person to whom presented, and the date in a circle around the representation of the State arms.

Mayor Haines reported to the Board the suspension of Hiram L. Mersen, recently arrested on a charge of burglary.

The death of Earl B. Suffell, the Collector of Arrears of Taxes, was announced, and an election was had for his successor, which resulted in the choice of W. C. Monroe.

A resolution was adopted to discharge the Special Committee, appointed some months ago, to locate the route of the Bergen Point Railroad, and a new Committee was appointed, consisting of Aldermen Tyrell, Hill and Wilson.

Alderman Ewen moved to take from the table the Mayor's veto of the proposed contract for lighting the city with gas. The motion was lost.

The Board resolved to meet at 7½ o'clock P. M. hereafter, instead of 8 o'clock. The next regular meeting will take place to-morrow evening at the Lyceum.

New-Jersey Teachers Association.

(Correspondence of the New-York Daily Times.

NEWARK, N. J., Thursday, Dec. 27, 1855.

The New-Jersey State Teachers' Association is holding its third annual meeting in this city. It convened at 2½ o'clock this P. M., in the High School building, which is, by the way, an admirably arranged and furnished school-house.

In the evening President Clark delivered his valedictory address—subject, "Socrates, a model teacher." He sketched the life of this philosopher, philanthropist and teacher, held him up in his diligence and devotion to duty as worthy of all imitation, and said it will be time enough for us to ask why we are not honored as he is when we live as he lived. The address was appropriate.

The state of education in the respective counties was described by members from the various counties.

The report of the committee on the State Agency was read and accepted, and the committee discharged. PEDAGOGUE.

NEWARK, N. J., Friday, Dec. 28, 1855.

The forenoon of to-day was occupied by the members of the State Teachers' Association in business matters.

The following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President—J. Sandford Smith, of Sussex.
Vice-Presidents—T. F. F. Reynolds, of Cumberland, and O. A. Kline, of Somerset.
Corresponding Secretary—B. J. Connally, of Morris.
Recording Secretary—G. D. Shaw, of Essex.
Treasurer—S. Backus, of Mercer.

This afternoon S. S. Randall, Superintendent of Public Schools in New-York City, addressed the Association upon the fundamental principles of popular education. He argued that education is the best preventive of crime and incentive to virtue; that the State has a right to prevent as well as to punish crime, and to take all measures necessary to educate every child. The liberty claimed by some American citizens of causing their children to grow up in ignorance and vice is an enormous and dangerous kind of freedom. It interferes with the liberty of others. Every man is interested in the education of all the people, for every man is subject to the effects of crime. These truths the faithful teacher will not fail to enforce. Thus doing his duty, though he may labor and live and die unappreciated, and unrewarded, his memory will be blessed, and his reward sure.

Prof. Pierson, of Newark, was elected Editor, in place of Prof. Cole, resigned.

Miss Eliza A. Chase, of Newark, was associated with Prof. Pierson in the editorship.

J. B. Thompson was elected State Agent for the ensuing year. His address is New-Brunswick, N. J.

This evening a large audience assembled in expectation of a rich treat from Prof. Foster, of Union College, nor were they disappointed. But the address was perfectly unanswerable.

The next meeting will be held at Bridgeton, Cumberland County.

After some words of mutual exhortation and encouragement the Association adjourned, and the members will go home on the morrow with hearts warmer for their work. PEDAGOGUE.

MISCELLANEOUS FROM A. KOSSUTH.

[illegible]

[illegible] Kossuth, Friday, Dec. 14, 1855.

Sir: It appears that Kern has fallen, he [illegible] and it has to [illegible] Several gallant [illegible] of mine are involved in the disaster, the [illegible] General Kmety, the hero of the late Hungarian war, which [illegible] the whole army of [illegible] Kmety, then Kern, there is no man Hungarian [illegible] Then there was Kohlman (Count Pulszky) the [illegible] and other officers of rare abilities and [illegible] Kmety's cavalry officer, during said battle [illegible] If Bem there can be. If it was his [illegible] Kmety, it can be reported of him, that he [illegible] first shot he died. It is almost a myth [illegible] Towards the close of the great struggle [illegible] when our south army was retreating from [illegible] towards Temesvar, one evening Kmety [illegible] Bem to cover the retreat by a cavalry [illegible] two squadrons of Hussars. He, with the [illegible] three hundred, threw himself in [illegible] under cover the cavalry, [illegible] smoking [illegible] superior in [illegible] was perfectly [illegible] but he [illegible] retreat, he found himself [illegible] by [illegible] Russian and dragoons. He [illegible] though bleeding from twenty [illegible] horse being killed under him, he [illegible] sword [illegible] his head, [illegible] helpless and prostrate—in all twenty [illegible] The advancing enemy left him for dead on the field; and for dead he was [illegible] taken to his memory is a [illegible] year and a half rolled on over our heads [illegible] a prisoner of Hungarian diplomacy [illegible] when he! one day I received a letter [illegible] Batorky dated Belgrade, reporting himself [illegible] and free, and ready to charge again in [illegible] twenty-three wounds. It would be a long [illegible] tell. Suffice to know that the hand of God [illegible] tested him on the gory field of death. I [illegible] my life, take a blissful joy like that his letter [illegible] caused.

Such were some of the men who fought at Kor[illegible] What has become of many, [illegible] sacred by some vile Cossack [illegible] from starvation, outgeneraled by [illegible] to find a way across the [illegible] General Kmety is reported to have [illegible] country in the [illegible] But, alas! the [illegible] Poor—the many, then, a fatal [illegible] some home left, in all Kmety's own [illegible] whole portions of starving night [illegible] and MONARCHY has [illegible] of [illegible] Kmety [illegible] Had Kmety succeeded in [illegible] would not have [illegible] would be scarcely any [illegible] to Vienna after the [illegible] Villagos. Then during [illegible] of Wallachia speaking [illegible] had escaped him. [illegible] sat up in a wooden hut, [illegible] his immediate escape. [illegible] clock as well as he could, his escape [illegible] received on passing [illegible] his immediate execution. [illegible] to try to rush out, and [illegible] all his life as dear as possible; when by a happy chance a Hungarian General, with a [illegible] straggler and [illegible] the spot. One [illegible] have had shared the fate of the [illegible] But the quick eye of the brave [illegible] at once the situation, and [illegible] remedy. Advancing boldly [illegible] tatively an account of the proceedings [illegible] that he was an Austrian [illegible] duty to look out for straggling [illegible] "rebels;" and having orders to carry such [illegible] as he would meet, to head-quarters. The [illegible] inche immediately surrounded [illegible] Kmety, however, did not like the change, and was about to provoke his own immediate death, when his preserver managed to reassure him, by some words in our own sweet native tongue, [illegible] stunned in the loud blustering fellow he addressed to his companions in German on the careful [illegible] the captured "rebel." Thus have Kmety [illegible] been saved. May the hand of Providence [illegible] protected him once more in his present trial—may he be preserved for our country, [illegible] has no son braver or more faithful, and more true.

The news of to-day appears to leave yet some hope that the report of the fall of Kars might prove untrue. The fact, however, is so likely, and so little do circumstances warrant a better anticipation, that I scarcely dare indulge in the present hope of doubt.

At all events, the fallen condition of Kars is a sad illustration to the fact, how successful the Western Powers have been in depriving Turkey of her last resources of effective action, and independent spontaneity. Scarcely two years ago Turkey had on the Danube a glorious army of 100,000 men, victorious in every engagement. Rallied as they were by the near presence of the Western auxiliaries, who went to the East, not for the purpose of aiding, but with the positive intention of hindering Turkey in her military operations; still the brave Turks partially defeated the Russians. Since that time they scarcely ever were allowed to fight; yet the glorious army is lost; scattered and shattered by the dispositions of the Allies, it has dwindled without a battle to a skeleton. Things have been so managed, that Turkey has no army more; not so much as to attempt to relieve Kars, though 30,000 men had been more than sufficient to save it. The Allies, on their part, with 200,000 idle men in the Crimea, stood by and let it fall, just as they stood by, and left Mouraviff unassisted in his glorious defence of Silistria. It was evident from the beginning, that the Western Governments have made up their mind, not to leave Turkey in the position to influence their own movements either in the field or in the negotiations. To effect this her power had to be paralyzed—and paralyzed it is to such an extent, that the Times can already snow the startling iniquity, that the Western Powers do not care a bit about the independence and integrity of Turkey, nor pay the slightest attention either to the wishes or the interests of the dead body of that protected empire.

In fact, at the very moment the humiliation of pacification is pushed on by all means of pressure and intrigue. We hear of what Austria proposes; though half the Western papers contain the slightest sense of self dignity, she could not be permitted to thrust her dirty fingers into the business at all; we hear of Buonaparte's approval of the Austrian terms—of Palmerston yielding to the pressure from Paris—we hear of Russia—we hear, in fact, of everybody meddling with the transactions in some way or another, but whether Turkey, the principal party, does or does not like the plotted arrangement, and its terms, that is a matter nobody thinks worth his while to inquire or to

FROM NICARAGUA.

Arrival of The Star of the West.

Success in Transporting Men from California.

FIRST SHIPMENT OF NICARAGUAN GOLD.

Central American View of Gen. Walker's Conquests.

The steamship Star of the West, Capt. Minor, from San Juan del Norte on the 20th of December, and Key West on the night of the 24th, with 250 passengers and $107,670 in treasure, to CHARLES MORGAN, Esq., arrived on Saturday afternoon.

She connected at the Isthmus with the steamship Sierra Nevada, from San Francisco, on the 6th inst., Manzanillo, Mexico, on the 19th, bringing from both ports in gold and silver for this City and New-Orleans $[illegible] and 400 passengers.

The following is the specie list by the Star of the West:

Drexel & Co., Phil.	$100,000	Schultz & Bro., N.Y.	15,500
Goldsmith, May & Co., New-York	21,000	Wolf, Brothers & Co., New-York	12,000
Thomas, Wilson & Co., New-York	6,000	J. Boorman & Son, N.Y.	6,000
Bap. New-York	5,000	G. Frederick, Balt.	5,150
Bank of Amer., N.Y.	25,000	Chatard Brothers, Balt.	2,150
Bank of Commerce, New-York	25,000	Grant, Trot & Co., N.Y.	4,000
J. Stuart & Co., New-York	10,000	H. Kinsey & Son, N.Y.	4,000
Aaron Jacobs, N.Y.	10,000	C. W. Wiley & Co., Phil.	10,000
Hoskins & Sons, N.Y.	10,000	J. Hooper & Bro., Bal.	3,000
Newhouse & Sparks, Philadelphia	17,150	Hoen & Sons, Balt.	3,000
G. Rossmann, N.Y.	2,000	Lalanne & Schapsis, New-York	3,000
		Total	$307,670

By this arrival is brought the first shipment of Nicaraguan gold, the produce of mines owned and wrought by Americans; and among the passengers are two gentlemen, associated therewith, well known to Californians—long experienced in mining operations, and possessed of ample capital, who come here for the express purpose of forthwith providing suitable machinery for the full [illegible] of their rich auriferous [illegible].

[illegible] of prosperity is rapidly [illegible] to the youthful [illegible].

General W[illegible] [illegible] has [illegible] of his ally, the [illegible] who has wrongs to redress [illegible].

The country's attention having latterly been diverted from grim-visaged war, and directed to the permanent colonization of the Republic, he has wisely thrown open to the world the public lands—guaranteeing to each farmer, after an occupation and residence of six months, 250 acres, and 100 additional to each member of his family, free forever; and, by a special clause, it is enacted that such lands are to be almost exempt from every species of taxation. Here is indubitably evinced a masterly policy, suited at once to the exigencies of that beautiful country, which by and by must fill immensely by timely emigration to its shores, and is alike indicative of the genius of its author, who promises to be no less the statesman than the warrier.

The Isthmus continues free from epidemics, and the transit route is expeditious, safe and pleasant.

There has not occurred a single case of sickness among the passengers since their departure from California.

The Star of the West encountered heavy gales from the northward from Cape Florida to within 50 miles S.W. of Cape Hatteras, where she unluckily broke one of the six-pump piston-rods. Being, however, provided with a duplicate, the accident was promptly repaired by the staff of engineers on board, who are All mechanics of the first order and equal to any emergency which may befall the engines.

On the 23d saw a wreck ashore mid-distance between Capes Corrientes and Antonio, apparently of 300 tons. Masts and bulwarks gone, and the sea making a clean breach in her amidships. Could not make out her name or nation.

On the 25th, in lat. 25° 48' N., long. 79° 20' W., spoke a ship very deeply laden, steering N.N.E., with private signal S. and Y. on white ground.

Vessel in the port of San Juan del Norte, H.B.M.'s brig of war Bulwark.

American brig Glove, from Aspinwall for Honduras, put in on account of the majority of the officers and crew being sick of Chagres fever.

We are indebted to Mr. James L. Owen, purser of the Star of the West, for files of papers.

AFFAIRS IN CALIFORNIA.

Business and Pleasure of San Francisco—The Sebastopol Jubilee and its Result—Miscellaneous News and Gossip.

Special Correspondence to the N. Y. Daily Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sunday, Dec. 8, 1855.

Since the sailing of the last steamer business has fallen off somewhat, and merchants have plenty of time to go fishing and write dunning letters. Those who ought to know say yesterday was the "tightest" steamer day we have had for a long time. The collecting clerks had plenty of exercise without any very satisfactory results. Money was scarce and uncomfortable at any rate of interest. Five per cent. was freely offered for ten days' accommodation. The stringency of the money market is owing to several causes—first, the small amount of goods sold and non-reception of gold dust from creditors and traders in the mining districts; secondly, the large demands for freight-money—some four or five large clipper ships having arrived during the fortnight, and there is no dodging freight bills—"fork" is the word.

THE SEBASTOPOL FETE.

The most interesting item of the past fortnight was the Sebastopol fête, and the fate of Sebastopol proper could not have been perfectly demonstrated. The French, English and Sardinian population of our city, as an outlet to their enthusiasm on reception of the news of the success of the Allies in the Crimea, concluded to celebrate the event in the brownest manner. Committees were appointed, and great preparations were made to celebrate the fall of half of Sebastopol. They seemed determined that there should be no half way business on their part at any rate. Monday, Nov. 26, was the day named, and an immense structure covered with canvas, was put up at "South Park," capable of containing several thousand persons. An imitation Malakoff tower was erected on the hill close by, and an extensive battery of one gun, for firing the salute of 101 guns. The sun rose clear, and the morning was all that could be desired. At 10 o'clock the procession formed on Market-street, and proceeded to the Tent, in front of which were platforms for the accommodation of the priests who were to perform high mass and the Te Deum. The crowd had increased to some seven or eight thousand persons by the time it commenced. The Te Deum was sung by a choir of a hundred voices. The one gun on the Malakoff belched forth any quantity of smoke, but being a small one did not make much noise. Inside the tent long tables were laid with what is usually termed "a cold grab," and benches and plates for about three thousand persons at twenty rows of tables extending the entire length of the tent, (230 feet,) from the top of which flags of all nations fluttered in the morning breeze. The interior was gracefully festooned with flags and evergreens. At the entrance was an arch and immediately over the centre appeared, in large gilt letters, "Eighth September—Sebastopol!" on each side, the names of all the distinguished officers who had fought in the Crimea; at the base, the words—"Balaklava," "Tchernaya," "Alma," "Inkerman." A sprinkling of devices of the munitions of war, completed the picture. In the centre of the interior was a raised platform, for the accommodation of distinguished personages and guests, in the midst of which, just foreent General DILLON, a roasted ox loomed up, and a few feet distant a representation of the Malakoff Tower, constructed of pound-cake and confectionery some ten feet in height, sugar cannon frowning from its battlements, and a large supply of ammunition was distributed about, all of the same material. At 12½ o'clock, the procession entered the tent, and in five minutes every seat was occupied, and the work of destruction commenced. Roasted pigs, ducks, geese and viands, disappeared with a rapidity that would lead one to suppose the Allies had not eaten since Sebastopol fell; for a time the clatter of plates and chunks for drinkables was stunning. The Frenchmen pitched into claret and the English into "Ale and ale." As the wine went down, their enthusiasm rose, and when the time came for drinking toasts, nearly every man of the three thousand was more or less tight. An attempt was made to command antiquities, but the Frenchmen were wild and the Englishmen red in the face—every one "hollered" order, frantic little [illegible] jumped on to benches and yelled out "Aux armes vous." Those who fancied they spoke English sang out "Soup-down." Many men yelled "Order—sit down," which had the effect to make everybody jump up. Some began to preach of the security of Sebastopol—some wanted more wine—some other proclaimed that the roasted ox was the ancient. They went from bad to worse, and Babel would be considered painfully quiet in comparison. There were lots of the unsympathizing population present, termed the "Boys," who were bent on mischief. The first flag in the Malakoff was the staying of a tough old goose at the Malakoff. It was fired with good effect, and instantly the air was darkened by the shower of roasted pigs, ducks, loaves of bread, claret bottles, hats, bones and fragmentary edibles, as rods for the devoted Malakoff. The scene that followed beggars description. Consul DILLON and the distinguished guests were nearly extinguished and buried beneath the ruins of the Tower and the falling missiles. The original Malakoff itself never could have stood such an attack. When it fell, there was a rush to plant the French flag over the ruins; but the Englishmen raised theirs over it, and a sanguinary struggle ensued for the mastery. In the midst of the row, some of the engine-boys, with CHARLEY DUANE at their head, scaled the tent, cut a hole through the top, and shoved the American Flag up through, where it waved over all others, and the attempts of the Frenchmen to dislodge it resulted in several knock-downs. The pressure on the tent becoming too great it split and down came a shower of sailors, Frenchmen and engine-boys on to the tables, smashing bottles and plates—one old jack tar landing astride the roasted ox, where he remained holding on to the tail for a rudder, trying to steer his ship out of port, giving the orders to "luff" and starboard at the top of his voice. At this stage of the game a Frenchman full of patriotism and claret, [illegible] the tents and commenced singing the [illegible] up with a pirouette on a [illegible] uncertain footing, she [illegible] on to a grave drift; a [illegible] Frenchman sprang to the rescue, and [illegible] again like a ten-pin, but owing to the "befuddled" state he was in he set the lady on the wrong end, and entirely reversed the order of things. A rush was made to right matters, when the lady and her admirer went down together in a promiscuous heap, half buried under chunks of roast beef, fragments of ducks and plates. In the centre of the pavilion there was a general row, in which every nation took a part—pandemonium broke loose wasn't a circumstance. Men clambered up the framework and tore down flags, and then others fought to restore them. The crowd outside rushed in and mingled in the melée—boys cut the tent cords, and the whole fabric swayed to and fro, threatening to come down in a heap. As I left to avoid this catastrophe, I took a farewell glance. A procession of a dozen Frenchmen were marching the length of tables amid the wreck of crockery, singing the partant pour la Syrie, and a lot of men-of-war's men were endeavoring to shove a "Lucifer" into the roast ox through a big hole they had made in its side, singing out "shove the rubber away in the hold" in his eye, he hurrahed for Boosher. An hour later there was nothing left of the Sebastopol celebration but a few thousand yards of torn canvas, an acre or two of broken crockery, and a couple of hundred dead drunk Allies buried in the ruins.

In the evening a large crowd collected in front of RAVEL & FAVRON'S, and were addressed by several Russian sympathizers, and having formed into a procession, took up their line of march for the Russian Consulate, where they made appropriate expressions of their sympathy, gave cheers three times three for Russia, and returned in a very orderly manner. The procession is said to have numbered five or six thousand persons, comprising a great number of our best and most respectable citizens, and so ended the eventful 26th of November—since which, the interest heretofore manifested to know who inflicted that blow on a respectable citizen—William Patterson by name—has been entirely superseded by a greater one, and the great inquiry now is, "Who shied the first cold goose at the Malakoff?"

THEATRICALS.

GABRIEL RAVEL and the MARTINETTI Troupe have played three weeks at the American Theatre, San Francisco, and are now at the Forrest Theatre, Sacramento, where they remain a fortnight. Doubling the prices in this city was not a popular move; although as much money may have been received under that arrangement, still the houses were frequently thin, and seldom enthusiastic. They will not probably visit any other interior city, but return here for a few farewell performances, and quit the country next month. Six or eight of the principals of the troupe could have done well, but a dozen additionals of no particular account, proved a dead weight upon the adventure. They will go back perhaps disgusted, with a loss of several months' time, but not otherwise impaired pecuniarily. MCKEAN BUCHANAN is in Marysville, and goes thence to Nevada, Downieville, Placerville and Stockton, with a barely passable company, under Mr. POTTER's management. Mrs. MOULTON (late Miss CARPENTER,) supports him. Mrs. POTTER, who has been her husband's big card, not condescending to that position. BUCHANAN played nearly a month at the Union Theatre in San Francisco, realizing about $8,500. He will not draw again here, and if he does not stay too long in these parts, may leave with five or six thousand dollars. He purposes next a trip to Australia. G. V. BROOKE is looked for daily from Sydney. He has not rivaled MR. STARK's reputation or success in the Columbia, the latter having realized about $75,000 in a year's sojourn there, while Mr. BROOKE leaves with hardly a tithe of that sum. Mr. BROOKE will, if well advised, make perhaps, $5,000 or $10,000 in California. The GOODENRICHS are waning fast in their starry attractiveness, but have already achieved a fortune of $12,000 in their short career on these shores. They are playing to a slim business at the Metropolitan, whence they go next week to Stockton, where KING & RYAN's Company, from the Forrest Theatre, Sacramento, are tarrying, while their establishment is given up to the RAVEL and MARTINETTI Troupe. If the GOODENRICHS were as industrious in their profession as they are in enlisting admirers, they would have found it profitable to remain longer among us, but their best policy now is to seek a fresh field as soon as possible. They, too, are looking Australia-ward. JOSH SILSBEE has been nearly six months confined to his bed with chronic dysentery, and is hardly yet convalescent. Had it not been for the devoted attention of his old friends, Mr. and Mrs. STARK, at whose house he has received every care and comfort, he would never again revel in the humors of Sam Slick or Jonathan Ploughboy. Mrs. C. H. SIDDALL, after her six months campaigning in the mountains, has taken the management of the old Sacramento theatre, where, in conjunction with EDWIN BOOTH, Mr. SEDLEY, Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE CHAPMAN, and a good company, the season has progressed favorably through its first fortnight. In San Francisco theatricals have been very shaky since the Winter campaign commenced. Both the larger theatres have closed more than once, and only the Union, under Mr. STARK's management has remained open and paid full salaries without interruption. The legitimate drama has been presented on the boards of the Union in a most unexceptionable manner, nightly, for the past five months, with Mr. STARK at its head. The corps dramatique comprises among others, Messrs. PHILLIPS, BARRY, ANDERSON, WILDER, GLOVER, THAYER, MCGOWAN; Mesdames STARK, WOODWARD and BOOTH. Mr. and Mrs. STARK will make a professional tour through the Atlantic States, in the Spring. Signora GARBARO, the last prima donna we have had, is not sufficiently elegant in style or appearance for the taste of our musical population. The Negro Minstrel Company, which occupies San Francisco Hall for the Winter, had a large accession by the arrival of the Cortes, bringing six fresh performers, engaged for Mr. MAGUIRE by Mr. HOOKER, in New-York. The business will not prosper at the same prices as dramatic performances; but if a large place was fitted up, and a half dollar the highest price, Negro Minstrelsy might continue to flourish in this city. So much for the show people.

AN ENTHUSIAST ON THE CENTRAL AMERICAN QUESTION.

Col. EDWARD JULIUS CÆSAR KEWEN, Attorney at Law, author of "Idealina," (the only poem of California manufacture that ever attained full binding,) has just returned from Nicaragua, in an intense state of enthusiastic excitement in regard to the country, and brimful of warlike ambition to conquer the small fraction WALKER has not—more particularly Greytown, including the redoubtable Col. KINNEY and Mr. FARRER.

Col. KEWEN's programme runs thus: First, he enlists 1,000 men; purchases the steamer Brother Jonathan, and proceeds to San Juan; lands, marches over to Greytown, hangs Col. KINNEY, hauls down the English flag, and gives Queen VICTORIA's subjects just fifteen minutes, by the watch, to leave the country. The Colonel only arrived by the Cortes yesterday morning, but he has got the whole town in an uproar. The excitement is tremendous among the war-dogs about the streets, who are brimful of fight and adventure, but are very empty in the stomach and pockets.

Last evening there was a great time,—firing of [illegible] and rockets,—and it was supposed that the Colonel had enlisted his men, and was calling them on to Telegraph Hill, the signal usually to be a jollification of the "Know-Nothings," celebrating the news by the defeat of the K. N. victories in the East.

RUMORS OF WAR OVER.

As an illustration of the condition of the finances of the city, a case came up in Court yesterday, but the City Attorney moved for a postponement on account of the absence of an important witness, who had promised to come, but had not been subpœnaed, because the city was too poor to pay for the subpœna. Judge MORRIS remarked that if the Attorney would present his petition in proper form, he might enter an order directing the city to defend, forsooth paupers; but Judge SHARPSTEIN decided, the other day, that a man could not be defended out of Court (that is, his suit,) because he was unable to pay the costs. So there is a faint chance for the city yet.

THE BOLTON AND BARRON CLAIM.

The great Bolton and Barron claim, that has kicked up such a bobbery, and was valued at a hat-full of millions, and supposed to be immense fortune to PALMER, COOK & Co., belongs to sundry and divers people not mentioned in the bills. The whole claim, it is ascertained, is secured by grants of anterior dates to the Bolton and Barron claim, and the general opinion is that they are going to hold.

THE FRENCH CORVETTE AND HER FLAG.

One day last week, a French corvette came into the harbor, (the Assomada, I believe,) and forthwith Mr. MARCY's orders were carried into execution. A salute was fired by the rebel Fabrique, whereupon General BARRIOS sent two French drummers through the streets, drumming up a crowd to go down to his office, and see the French flag hoisted, evidently intending to convey the idea that the salute was to his Consular flag—but everybody here knew better. It is the general opinion that Mr. DUANE was very glad to have a chance to hoist his flag again, and would have done it for less.

A NEW DISCOVERY.

There's no knowing what we shall find in California yet. In my last I mentioned the discovery of blue noses, or its ingredients. The last thing is a vein, fifteen feet wide, of soap—Castile soap, a genuine article, and no mistake, and it is a fixed fact. What a chance for washerwomen.

FODGERS.

NICARAGUA.

The Transit—Agriculture, Mining, Mercantile, and Mechanical Interests, &c.

Letter from Mr. Male.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

Through your columns I beg to answer the many letters I am receiving from parties desiring information as to the mining, agricultural, and other resources of Nicaragua, and I will endeavor to answer the various questions propounded to me by intending emigrants as precise and correct as possible, hoping this will answer all the purposes, as I have not time to notice their different communications, and they all bearing on the same subject.

There is no difficulty, whatever, to be anticipated in the transit from San Juan del Norte to Grenada. The price of passage from New-York to that city has been reduced to twenty dollars by the Transit Company, in order to facilitate the Government in its plans of immediate colonization, and I believe the same rates will be established in New-Orleans. The passengers on arriving in San Juan are immediately transferred to the river steamers, and they arrive in the Capital of Nicaragua (Granada) twenty-four hours after. The Company have been carrying freight to Granada at ⅞ cts. per lb., but I believe that rate has or will be immediately reduced.

Almost every paper throughout the Union has published the Colonizing Decree of the Government of Nicaragua—or a portion of it. It offers to each actual single settler, a title to 250 acres of land, and to each married 250, free from taxation, and the privilege of introducing agriculture and farming implements, stock, seeds, &c., &c., into the country, free of duty. It is necessary that all parties should first go to the Seat of Government, where is established the Colonization office, at the head of which is Mr. FARRER, late United States Consul at Greytown. The Government lands most likely to be first disposed of are those about the Lake Nicaragua, and along the Transit route from San Juan del Sur to San Juan del Norte. I am not prepared to say what disposition the Government will make of the mining lands, in the District of Chontales the soil is equally productive of minerals or grain, and the poorest throughout the country will produce three crops per annum of the staple articles of consumption. Five hundred dollars, on arrival in Granada, with a family of five, will be sufficient to settle on, and it would be advisable that the emigrant should bring with him an assortment of seeds and farming implements, though the Government are taking steps to provide for those arriving without them. Cattle are very plenty. The milch cows are not much cared after, and it is very difficult to find fresh butter or milk, though the cows are roaming in abundance throughout the country. Horses and mules are also very plenty, and, though small, are strong and enduring. A really good horse, say fifteen hands high, would bring at present about $200. The horses do not average a larger size than the mules, and the prices of either vary from $50 to $75. I cannot say how much would keep a family of four or five for two or three years. Six months after settling on their farms, the occupants may depend upon large returns, as there is very little labor required in clearing or tilling the lands, and their seeds will grow almost spontaneous with their sowing. Stock raising promises to be one of the most profitable occupations in Nicaragua—the poorest cattle will fatten on its grasses in one month, of which there is an abundance in every locality.

Mining operations, at present, are entirely confined to the Chontales District, but it is more than probable that in the course of a few months the immigrants from the California mines will make their way to the gold washings of Albino and Leonese—which are well known to be rich. For safe and profitable speculation, I would advise the formation of companies of working men, with proper machinery, to work in the quartz mines of Chontales, composed of not more than twenty—machinists, blacksmiths, carpenters and laborers. Such organizations cannot fail of success. Having immigrated to California in 1847, and remained there till 1852, I should have a pretty good idea of its mines, and I have no hesitation in saying that the mines of Central America will prove much more profitable than those of California.

A great field is now opened in Nicaragua for mercantile pursuits of every kind. Business men cannot fail accumulating a fortune in either Granada, Leon, Rivas, Masaya, Virgin Bay, San Juan Del Sur, or San Juan del Norte. It is only necessary to say that establishments of every description, "from a needle to an anchor," are required in all of these places. The markets are very sparsely supplied at present, and all classes of goods bring from one to to three hundred per cent. advance on Northern prices.

Mechanics of every description are in requisition in Granada and the other cities of Nicaragua. Ten men of each of the following trades would meet with immediate and constant employment in Granada at from five to eight dollars per day: carpenters, blacksmiths, tinsmiths, masons, bricklayers, plasterers, bakers, cartwrights, boat and ship builders, cabinet-makers, painters, glaziers, sawyers, tailors, shoemakers, brick-makers, saddlers and harness-makers. All tradesmen should bring their own tools, &c. When I left Granada, a good working carpenter could make ten dollars a day, and I believe there was only one in the city. The soldiers of the battalion, who received one hundred dollars per month and found, received also three and a half and four dollars per day for working in the commissariat department. I am satisfied that any industrious man can save at least one hundred dollars per month from his earnings, and live on the "fat of the land."

The men in the service of Gen. WALKER, according to the reorganization receive as follows, together with five hundred acres of land:

	Per Month.		Per Month.
General-in-Chief	$300 00	Second-Lieutenant	75 00
General of Brigade	200 00	First-Sergeant	32 00
Colonel	200 00	Second-Sergeant	30 00
Lieut.-Colonel	175 00	First-Corporal	27 50
Major	150 00	Second-Corporal	25 00
Captain	100 00	Privates	25 00
First-Lieutenant	80 00

The regulations as to clothing, rations, &c., &c., are same as United States Army.

The roads throughout the country are rapidly improving, under the supervision of the Government, and the transit through the interior is by ox wagons.

Public Schools will be established immediately. The matter is now under the consideration of the Government. The people, generally, write and read well, but that is the extent of the education of the lower classes. [illegible] with any other people I have ever been among. They are kind in the extreme—honest, and will, I am sure, be industrious.

There are no mills, but grants are established in the country. They are very much needed. The people pound or grind all the corn they use between flat and round stones—this work, of course, devolves upon the females.

I would strenuously advise strangers contemplating to bring their families with them. Their presence is held to be invaluable, and there is nothing to fear from outbreak or sickness.

The following is a list of prices in Granada:

Flour—$[illegible] ⅞ lbs., (none.)
Corn—[illegible] cents ⅞ bushel, native.
Sugar—[illegible] cents ⅞ lb., native.
Sugar—10 cents to 15 cents, good, imported.
Tea—$2 to $2 50 ⅞ lb., imported.
Coffee—[illegible] cents ⅞ lb., native.
Salt—[illegible] cents ⅞ bushel.
Cheese—15 cents ⅞ lb., native.
Rice—[illegible] cents ⅞ lb., native.
Beans—[illegible] cents ⅞ lb.
Pork—[illegible] cents to 18 cents.
Chickens—$1 50 ⅞ dozen.
Eggs—[illegible] cents ⅞ dozen.

I am positively assured that the Government of Nicaragua do not receive any money from [illegible]—recent accounts from the seat of Government stating that their influx was so great that they were obliged to disperse a portion of them to Honduras. Any persons going there in future must go with the intention of either settling on the lands or devoting his attention to mercantile or mechanical pursuits.

In conclusion, the climate is healthy, and healthily with the Sandwich Islands. The soil produces abundance; the Government liberal and liberal, opening its arms in peace and harmony to receive the well disposed and industrious—and herself will find the benefit of their bright sword.

Hoping you will excuse my intrusion, I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

JOSEPH H. MALE.

Ex. Nicaragua, Dec. 29, 1855.

Central American View of Walker's Success.

From the Boletin Oficial of San José, Nov. 15.

Important, most important news we have just received from San Juan—but a formidable reaction, the destruction of Granada and many other which the Minister of Guerra adds the consolation of the loss of so many others besides.

Is it possible to believe it to be a fact? We doubt it; we would wish to be able to announce it as a doubtful, but unfortunately we have not.

Letters from Granada, giving a true account of the disaster to the Allies, have arrived, and have united to confirm the document, that defeat of the advance guard of the enemy, that defeat of the Allies, and the retreat in Mid-day, under a galling fire, and the loss of the enemy, that victorious after causing unheard of losses to the Allies, cruelly and terribly illnged.

The humane we have to lament to see unknown of robbery, murder, conflagration, the treachery of innocent women, under fair pretences, defeat, assassination, pursuits, assaults and a thousand other atrocities without respect to sex, age, rank or position.

Such excesses have occasioned even those who so inconsiderately surrendered themselves to the mercy of the foe, on the Isthmus, they have [illegible] vortex which threatened to devour them; and [illegible] in a city of Independence, in a city dear to the Union and Concord, and have all reason to congratulate their country on it.

If so pleasing a union should be cemented, it will be true that the good sense of Nicaragua, despite their blind hatred, their party animosities, have united to consider the common enemy. If it be indisputable that they prefer to see the Isthmus in Granada destroyed, and their homes in ruins, to see them in the hands of the foreigner, and to see their homes destroyed to serve as vile and the tools slaves to their tyrant, then what will the other cities of Central America do?

Therefore, now it will not be an unlawful or arbitrary intervention between two parties, they will not now separate from their principles of nationality, so that it is imperative that they change their compromise policy, their policy of neutrality, distribution, to unite and unite as one and the same time in saving a sister city from the fangs of filibusterism.

The fate of Granada is the same which all towns may expect if not by new sacrifices fruitful sacrifice, they consent with a moral complacency a vile covenant that the filibusters shall lord it over Nicaragua, and thence launch forth their hordes of pirates and highwaymen over the rest of Central America.

The Central American adds to this: "The above, translated from the El Boletin Oficial of San José of the 14th ult., has been handed to us, and we are happy to have it in our power to say that there is no foundation for the atrocities stated to have been perpetrated in Granada."

Riots and Murder in Canada—Attempt to Burn a Company of Soldiers by Overthrowing the Railroad Cars.

From the Quebec Gazette, Dec. 29.

The two companies of the 19th Regiment which left Quebec on Thursday last for the scene of murder of a man named CORMICAN have returned to garrison. Those sent to St. Mary's in Chaudière arrived on Monday morning, and others yesterday. Neither they nor the police of Montreal, which it was intended they should support, if required, obtained any clue to the whereabouts of the alleged murderers, nor was there any opposition or resistance offered by the inhabitants to St. Mary's yesterday but we regret that in one instance on their return of the force, dispatched direct to St. Sylvestre, to record an act of Indian atrocity hitherto, happily, unprecedented in Canada; that the desertion of the whole party was premeditated was too evident from the following particulars, which we have on undoubted authority:

The soldiers under command of Captain Amyatt, and the police under Capt. [illegible], amounting together to some 60 or 70 men, arrived at the Orange-road station of the Montreal Railroad, embarked in a special train, at 6 o'clock P.M. on Monday. They had not proceeded [illegible] yards from the station when the cars began to jolt violently, and the locomotive and tender went off the embankment, dragging the cars off the track. The locomotive and tender were turned over, more or plenty into a ditch. The Engineer miraculously escaped unhurt. Fortunately all the soldiers had remained stationary their posts at the bottom of their cells, otherwise the cars would have been upset, and fatal consequences ensued. To this circumstance, and the slow rate at which the train was yet going, must be attributed the escape of all on board, for from the crowded state of the cars with [illegible], [illegible] would have caused the destruction of the whole party. As it was, however, not a single casualty occurred, the only consequence of the infernal design being injury to the locomotives.

Constable BRYDGES, of this city, on looking out of the car, observed a man more than [illegible] run away, and as soon as the cars stopped, he [illegible] pursued, and arrested him. The man, who gave the name of A. RAMSAY, in the employ of one of the Company's contractors, and admitted that he had been told to act as he did, by KELLY, his pal, on the information, J. KELLY, switch tender, was arrested, and a third party suspected to being implicated in the attempt. It was with difficulty that the crowd and police were restrained by their officers from taking summary vengeance on the prisoners. Kelly is said to be the brother of one of the foremen, but we refrain from comment this morning, and let the facts speak for themselves.

Counties of Lotbinière and Wolfe are in open defiance of all law and authority, and public spirit is now so fearfully rife, that vigorous measures must be adopted forthwith, if it be at all intended to punish crime, and preserve the country from factious strife and bloodshed. Troops should be immediately sent back to St. Sylvestre, and [illegible] there, but respect for law and order is restored and peace restored in this rebellious district.

Letter from Fort Pierre.

From the Council Bluffs Bugle, Dec. 11.

On Saturday we were favored with visits from Majors GARNER and WOODS and Captains TUPPER, DAVIDSON and LOVELL, twenty days out from Fort Pierre.

General HARNEY, with his command, had arrived at the Fort. There was nothing of interest transpiring. Indians of the various tribes were coming in for peace. It is the opinion of those [illegible] the difficulties in that quarter will soon be apparently settled, as, since General HARNEY's engagement with the SIOUX, all the northern tribes appear to be more complaisant and civil. The reports of hostile indications at the fort above, received by a previous dispatch, was a matter that occurred last Summer.

General HARNEY contemplates establishing a post on the Running Water, about 200 miles above.

The gentlemen above named, brought down a heavy express mail, and we now on a leave of absence to visit their families and friends. They are men of energy and intelligence.

Gen. HARNEY is to hold a general council with the Indians on the 1st of March next.

MAGNIFICENT SCENE.—Yesterday morning, when the mercury in the thermometer was down to zero, a most beautiful phenomenon might have been seen in the heavens. The sun rose bright, brilliant, with its two beautiful counterparts, or mock suns, with a bright inverted bow extended above. One could scarcely tell, only from their position, which was the true sun; not a cloud was to be seen through the day; it was so cold however, that the snow was not affected by the sunbeams.

Death of Rev. Mr. Whiting.

We understand that information has [illegible] announcing the death at Batavia of [illegible] Mr. WHITING, Missionary of the American Board, who has been laboring in that country for [illegible] years. Mr. WHITING is will be remembered as a daughter of the late Dr. JOHN WADE, of Marietta. The same letter states that the cholera [illegible] prevalent there, and all the inhabitants of the place were leaving the place. [illegible] American or European, died in thirty-six hours from the attack, and died in thirty-six hours from the time of his attack.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] MONDAY, DEC. 31, 1855.

[illegible] NEW-YORK DAILY TIMES [illegible] Cents. Mail Subscribers [illegible] a year.

[illegible] WEEKLY TIMES, containing all the [illegible] Friday, is mailed at Three Dollars a year.

[illegible] WEEKLY TIMES [illegible] mailed at One Dollar a year for [illegible]

THE TIMES FOR CALIFORNIA [illegible]

[illegible]

RAYMOND, HARPER & CO., Publishers.

[illegible] Hughes delivered the effected towards the organization of the House on Saturday. [illegible] ballots were had, with no other result than to show the detention of a few professed [illegible] not whether permanently or not remains to be seen. There seems to be a pretty [illegible] determination, on the part of the friends of Mr. Banks, to stand by him to the last, and the feeling is that he will eventually be elected.

[illegible] Our Special Washington Correspondent telegraphs us to-day that Mr. Mason has answered Lord Clarendon's last missive in relation to Mr. Crampton's connection with the illicit recruiting affair, and that that gentleman's recall has been peremptorily insisted upon.

Heading Political Platforms.

Mr. Bocock, of Virginia, has written a candid and forcible letter, advising the Southern Know-Nothings to consent to the exclusion of the Twelfth Section from the Philadelphia Platform; and he declares himself, institutionally, against all platforms as the basis of party action. He believes that all abstract notions on Slavery are out of place in these declarations of political principle, and predicts that if the Democracy insist on the Twelfth Article the American Order will become a merely sectional party, and be defeated in every Northern State.

We understand, further, that a very active intrigue is in progress between the section of Southern Know-Nothings represented by Mr. Bocock and the wire-and aggressive Pro-Slavery party adhesive to the meeting of the National Council as a Nominating Convention at Philadelphia. The 22d of February has been regularly appointed as the day for its assembling; but a design has been discovered whose object is to urge upon the National Council the rejection of the Twelfth Article, as a portion of the platform, and the original friends of that proviso have commenced an agitation among the State Councils to postpone the general meeting until the 18th of June. They cannot, of course, hope by the delay, while circumstances may arise to change, or defeat, the plans of the repulsion. The Editor of the Washington Organ, and other leading men, who oppose all discussion upon the Slavery issue, and who wish, therefore, to get the new principle of "Congressional non-intervention." This was the pretended principle of the Nebraska bill, and became the Party platform;—non-intervention superseded non-agitation. But the new wine has already burst the old bottles, and the accumulation of Democratic principles has crushed the feeble structure of 1854.

Mr. Glancy Jones, of Pennsylvania, a trusted leader of the party in that State, took occasion a few days since to throw aside, as useless lumber, the pillars, planks, and braces of the Nebraska platform of 1854, and asserted that the Democracy rejected the principle then proclaimed. He said the people in the territories could not control and settle the question of Slavery even themselves. The Constitution had made slaves property, and no territorial legislation could make them anything else. Therefore the people had no power over the subject; and it was a mistake to suppose that Congress had committed the decision of the question to them. The people, therefore, had not the right to establish and manage their domestic institutions in their own way, and, if Congress had undertaken to bestow that privilege upon them, it had exceeded its power, and its action was null and void. Mr. Jones went on to say that the Constitution regulated the whole matter, and having carried Slavery into and over all territory belonging to the United States, by a sort of locomotive principle inherent in itself, the institution could only afterwards be reached by the inhabitants after they should have become a State.

This is the first time, we believe, that any public man from a Free State has avowed this extreme doctrine, though it is the precise ground on which nearly all prominent Southern politicians based their support of the Nebraska bill. The principle is the very opposite of "Squatter Sovereignty," being as destructive of that doctrine as it is of the authority of Congress. The real principle of the bill denied the power of the people, repudiated the jurisdiction of Congress, and consigned the whole subject to courts composed of Slave-holders, appointed because they were such, for the special service of deciding this contro-

[illegible]

The Value of the Immigrant.

It is extremely difficult to make men, not accustomed to think on the subject, understand a managed loss distributed over a large scale. If each man were to pay a cent more for every pound of sugar he consumed, he would think little of the loss, and yet it would make a difference of some $4,000,000 to the whole nation. So with a product like Indian corn. If Government were to extort a half-cent for every bushel raised, how little would any one observe the detriment, except in the inconvenience of being visited by tax-gatherers, yet the loss to our farmers would be about $2,000,000 per annum. So again with wheat—a cent per bushel seems a trifle, and yet the wheat raisers who would pay this as tax, or who should fail to get this additional as the price, would in mass lose a million of dollars. How petty to those not in the trade would seem a duty of a half cent on every pound of cotton exported; and yet the gain to the Government for a single year would be about $6,000,000.

It is this inability to appreciate losses on an extended scale, which has lain at the bottom, we apprehend, of the indifference of people to taxation by duties and tariff imposts. It is only the slow progress of intelligent views and the feeling of a gradual decay of prosperity from unseen causes which awake men to the sense of such losses. It is thus in the matter of pecuniary and business loss by decrease of immigration in this country. We shall not observe it, perhaps, for years; or, if it is observed, it will be traced to other sources, as in France, for long periods, the industrial depression was attributed to anything but its real cause—the expulsion of the hard-working Huguenots. Men will be found to present such absurd statements, as has lately a correspondent, signed "Subscriber," who complains that his village has 300 foreign workmen, "industrious and well-behaved," indeed, but who receive such high wages that the farmers make no profits and the lands decrease in value, and who, therefore, urges the advantage of decreased immigration! As though cutting off half the usual annual supply of laborers would reduce wages, and bring up the price of farms per acre! Do not such men know that almost the only thing now which makes farming in any degree profitable in our country is the great supply of foreign labor? Without immigration, we may safely say, farmers would pay double for their workmen; and with such an increase of expense, what could yield the profit in agriculture? Who does not know that in all the Eastern and Northern States, it is as much as farmers can do to succeed, or sometimes even to keep above water, under the present rate of wages? What would be the result, if at once, the supply of 100,000 strong arms per annum were cut off, and wages had to be divided among a much smaller number of laborers?

And as to the price of lands. What, in the name of common sense, does "Subscriber," or any one else, suppose has given the extraordinary value to land in the Western Hemisphere? Is it Anglo-Saxon blood, or the fruitfulness and numbers of Anglican colonists? How is it that those mighty cities, with their increasing currents of business, like Chicago and Cincinnati and St. Louis, have so suddenly sprung up on the Western plains? Is it entirely the work of Republican Institutions and Scandinavian energy? The world has seen before Republics and energetic men, and even Colonists of Saxon blood—but no such fruits. The truth is, for the last twenty years we have had a current of millions of laborious men pouring upon these shores; men just fitted to do the material work necessary for its prosperity, and to be pioneers, or to take the places of native laborers, who should themselves lead through the forest and the prairie the onward march of our improving civilization. No other country ever had, in all its treasures, such a rich import of labor, so suited to its present needs. It is these millions, which have either settled themselves, or have allowed our native population to settle, on those fertile Western plains. It is immigration which has made the farms of Indiana and Illinois worth their $230,000,000, or more than $200 for each man, woman and child inhabiting them. It is this which has given the humble basis of drudgery on railway and canal, in house and on farm, in which American ingenuity could build this fair structure of Western prosperity. It is foreign labor—dull, patient and stupid, despised drudgery by Irish and Germans—which lies at the bottom of our Chicagos and Cincinnatis and Pittsburgs. Without the foreigners, fewer railways and fewer canals would have been built; our Eastern native population would have been confined more to labors in its own limits; less land would have been needed or occupied; all products of the soil would have been more expensive to raise, and we may safely say, that the wonderful rapidity of progress which has characterized this country would have been greatly checked.

Undoubtedly Saxon energy, in time, would have built up a grand community—but the growth, without foreign accretions, would have been by centuries, instead of decades, even as in England.

We have estimated in a previous article the moneyed loss sustained by the country in this year's decrease of immigration. We drew the estimate merely from two palpable sources of profit, which would be cut off by cessation of immigration, leaving others less apparent, though equally real. These two, namely, the direct personal property imported by each immigrant, and the value of his labor.

The first, from statistics gathered from the Castle Garden investigations, we estimated at $12,000,000—that is, the amount which would have been imported by the 170,000 immigrants who this year have stayed at home. The second, reckoning the value of the labor as at least equal to the cost of living—namely, $2 per week—to each person, we made $17,000,000. The total loss, then, for the coming year to the country would be, in this estimate, $30,000,000. Such estimates are, of course, only approximate. We designedly underrated them.

The value of labor is its profit. In a new country, like this, there can be very little doubt that wages would double without immigration—that is, the mechanic would receive $3 instead $1 50 per day for his work; the farm-laborer $2 instead of $1; the laundress $1 50 instead of 75 cents. This amount is now, in effect, gained by the producers of the country, who employ hired labor, and would be lost by the withdrawal of this labor.

On a broad statement, each immigrant is worth—is a profit—to the nation, of at least $2 per week, or what he consumes—over and above the expenses of his labor; some of course will be worth more, some less—but this would be an average and moderate valuation.

It should be remembered, in this are included two sources of individual profit—the gain to the employer in the labor, and the gain to the producer in the articles consumed. These together would swell up the profits of the foreign labor, now lost, we believe considerably above our estimate.

The first gain mentioned, the import of personal property, is of course a pure gain—even more than the same amount derived from a gold or silver mine in America. No labor even is given in exchange for it. Foreign capital lent us on interest, is of course no such permanent value. Its worth is the present profit of using it. The interest we pay for it goes to other countries, and the principal must eventually be withdrawn.

Such moneyed estimates of the value of men as these, seem low and selfish; and yet there are some who can be affected by nothing else. It is desirable to show to them that in this case humanity and property lie in the same path.

Amusements.

Burton's Theatre.—Mr. Burton produces a new and seasonable piece to-night, called "New-Year's Eve, or Der Nachwachter," and taken, we suppose, from the German. New scenery and costumes have been prepared for this work, and it will, we have no doubt, be produced in a satisfactory manner. Burton and Miss Mitchell sustain the principal characters.

Wallack's Theatre.—"Pocahontas" has proved a decided hit; delights every one without offence to any. It is good for two months at least. The Drama of "Pauline" is also on the bills for to-night.

Metropolitan Theatre.—The attendance here, since the opening night, has been satisfactory. Even on Saturday night, when the snow stormed so violently, there was a good attendance. One agreeable little piece has been produced, or rather played, here, (for at present we cannot speak of any thing being produced,) called "Dreams of Delusions." The following is a sketch of the plot:

Sir Bernard Harleigh labors under the delusion that his wife, Lady Harleigh, is insane, consequently he sends for the family physician (Doctor Pungent) for the purpose, if possible, of curing her. Doctor Pungent sets about the case, and soon discovers that it is not the wife's mind that is diseased, but Sir Harleigh's. He looks round for the cause of this madness, and discovers that when Sir Harleigh was in Naples he imagined that his wife had proved unfaithful. The cause of his dishonor he sought out and flung him to the waves, when he supposes he was drowned. Doctor Pungent works like a trump. He finds that the wife is not frail. That Sir Harleigh has not committed murder. The gentleman whom he threw into the sea managed to regain terra firma, and, instead of making proposals to the wife, only does so to the niece, Amabel, whom he wishes to marry. Everything is arranged satisfactorily in the end.

Mr. George Jordan, as the deluded hero, played with much discretion and appeared to great advantage. Miss Laura Keene, as the separed and broken-hearted wife, was charming, natural and affecting. Mr. Dyott, as the Doctor, was also excellent.

To-night the Drama of "Dreams of Delusions," will be repeated, together with the Comedy of "Masks and Faces," Miss Laura Keene appearing as Peg Woffington in the latter. The Ballet of the "Valley of Flowers" terminates the performances.

Broadway Theatre.—Planche's fairy Burlesque of "King Charming," with its gorgeous scenery, panoramas, costumes, &c., will be repeated every night this week, preceded by a Farce.

Niblo's.—The "Ravels" and the Ballet Troupe, headed by Mlle. Rosier, appear to-night in "Iovita," and a variety of entertainments, for particulars of which we must refer to our advertising columns.

Barnum's Museum.—The exciting drama of "Ambrose Gwinett" will be given this afternoon, and in the evening the burlesque of "Valentine and Orson."

☞ At Buckley's Minstrels, No. 539 Broadway, there is an excellent programme of Ethiopean music; also, at Donaldson's, No. 663 Broadway, to either of which establishments we recommend our readers to go.

☞ During the Holiday week there are two galleries of art that should be be visited; the Dusseldorf collection and the Bryan ditto.

Academy of Music.

The "Prophet" will be performed to-night for the last time, with its original cast—Miss Hewlett having returned from her Eastern trip. This also is the fortieth and last night of the season. In spite of early discouragement, crowned, however, by ultimate success, Mr. Payne has pursued the even tenor of his way, giving his patrons a succession of operas, cast in the strongest way possible, and placed on the stage in a complete and unsparing manner. Thus having fulfilled his contract with the public, and reached the fortieth night, the season closes. Not once during Mr. Payne's management has there been a disappointment. We have no recollection of a campaign that has been conducted in so smooth and gentlemanly a way. There has been a total absence of puffery and inflated appeals to the public. Every thing has depended on its own intrinsic excellence, backed by the energy and courage of the manager. For the first fifteen nights it was impossible to make headway against the Rachel fever, but subsequently the houses have been good. We are sorry that the Academy closes so early in the season, for during the next three weeks it would certainly come in for a large share of Holiday patronage. That, however, is the announcement, and we submit it to our readers as a sufficient reason for overwhelming the Box-keeper to-night—the last of the season.

Items.

Philadelphia.—Mr. E. Forrest made his last appearance at the Walnut-street Theatre on Saturday, playing Spartacus, in the tragedy of the "Gladiator." ....The "Corsican Brothers" has been revived at the Arch, with Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Conway, in the principal parts....The burlesque of "Fortunio" is in active preparation at the Walnut-street Theatre, where it will be produced this week. There is a great scope for scenic effect in this piece.

St. Louis.—The Bateman children are at the St. Louis Theatre....At the People's Theatre, "The Swamp Fox, or Marion and his Merry Men," appears to be the attraction.

Baltimore.—Dan Rice took a benefit in the Front-street Circus on Saturday night. There were both stage and equestrian performances....M. J. C. Jarrett, lessee and manager of the National Theatre, Washington, assisted by Mr. Ford, manager of the Holiday-street Theatre, announces a grand entertainment in the latter establishment on New Year's night. A number of "stars" have been collected, who will appear together in Sheridan's Comedy of the "School for Scandal." Among the most prominent we notice the names of H. and T. Hamblin, Chas. Peck, J. W. Wallack, the Hermanns, Miss Laura Keene, Mrs. F. Conway, and others. Price one dollar admission....At the City Museum the play of "De Soto," written for Mr. Murdoch by George H. Miles, Esq., is being performed, the part of De Soto being sustained by Mr. Murdoch. In the last act there is a tableau taken from the picture of the burial of De Soto in the Mississippi.

Cincinnati.—The Fyne and Harrison Troupe have been playing here at the National Theatre with success....Miss Louisa has given some readings here....The Sixth Musical association, whatever that may be, gave a performance of the "Creation," on Friday last, under the direction of Professor Wetzmann.

Pittsburg.—Yankee Locke and his wife have been playing at the Theatre here.

Cleveland.—A grand Spectacle piece called the "Naiad Queen," has been produced at the Bank-street Home. Three thousand dollars were expended on the production, and it met with success. "Aladdin" is still played here....Mr. H. A. Fraser is at the Athenæum. He is in his fourth week.

Detroit.—Macfarland's Metropolitan Theatre is getting along with Knap' Burlesque Opera Troupe and light pieces.

Buffalo.—The great dramatic spectacle of "Faustus; or, the German Magician," has been produced here in "a style of magnificence and splendor not to be eclipsed by any other establishment in the world." So says the bill. Twenty-two entirely new scenes have been painted for the piece, using up forty thousand feet of canvas. It is played to-night for the seventh time.

Troy.—Little Cornelia Howard and her parents are at the [illegible]

Columbus, O.—[illegible] Troupe seem to be all the rage. A couple of youngsters, named Viola and Adelaide Plunkett Grattan are playing the principal characters in "Richard III," at the Theatre. Light work for children.

Toronto, C. W.—The fairy extravaganza of the "Enchanted Isle, or Raising the Wind," written by the Brothers Brough, was produced at the Theatre Royal on Boxing night. It has been put on the stage with a great deal of care, and met with a success.

Boston.—Mr. William Mason, the eminent pianist, has been playing here to the great admiration of the entire....The "Messiah" was repeated last evening (Sunday) by the members of the Handel and Haydn Society. These Sunday performances appear to have been eminently successful this Winter. Why can't we have something of the same kind here....Shakspeare's "Tempest" has been produced in gorgeous style at the Boston Theatre. The scenery is praised, but the acting is condemned....At the Museum, the spectacle of "Valentine and Orson" is being played....Mr. Farren and Miss L. Howard are at the Athenæum.

Miscellaneous.

Jenny Lind Goldschmidt.—This lady has made her reappearance in London. An evening paper says:

"After a long absence, Madame Goldschmidt again appeared last night before the English public, whose idol—as Jenny Lind—she had been for so long. The scene of her reappearance was Exeter Hall, which never held a larger or more fashionable audience than on this occasion; the work in which she appeared was the "Creation," and her success was substantially as great as on the most enthusiastic occasions of 1842, '43 and '45. Mme. Goldschmidt is somewhat thinner and more serious looking than Jenny Lind, but the glorious voice, which she has, in every sense of the word, used so well, remains still fresh and unapproachably beautiful. Her first air last night, "The marvelous works," was for a moment or two somewhat clouded—by nervousness, most probably—but the words "The praise of God" were given with an electrical effect that settled the question, that it was the Jenny Lind of other days that stood before us. "With verdure clad" was a marvel of grace, brilliancy and finish; but it was in the elaborate air "On mighty pens" that all these qualities and the matchless beauty of her voice most triumphantly asserted themselves. She sang throughout with a simple earnestness that made the sacred strains more sacred; and the enthusiasm with which the audience greeted her was of the most heartfelt and unanimous character.

We are happy to hear that Signor Arditi's opera of the "Spy" has been accepted by the management of the Academy of Music. If it is produced with care, and under the direction of a conductor who will not allow the singers to break down, nor try to make them do so, we have no doubt of its success.

Railroad Accident and Narrow Escape.

At 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, the Cincinnati Express train on the Erie Railroad, was thrown off the track at Sloatsburg Station, while on the way to the City. The accident was caused by an attempt of some countryman to cross the track in front of the train, with a team of four mules. The cars were running at the rate of 25 miles an hour when they struck, and were immediately thrown off, but ran over the cross-ties for a distance of upwards of half a mile. Three of the mules were killed instantly, and were horribly mutilated; the fourth died soon after. No damage was done to cars or passengers, and through the active exertions of Mr. Conniverson, the Conductor, the delay was only for fifteen minutes. Passengers speculated what the result of the accident would have been, had the train been on the other track. The Ramapo River was close alongside, and at the point where the cars finally brought up, the embankment was of very considerable height. When will country people learn to be careful at the road-crossings.

Southern Proclivities of our Post-Office.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

A few weeks since I mailed a letter in the New-York Post-Office, directed to Newark, New-Jersey. In the course of ten days, I received a reply, stating that my letter had reached Newark, by way of Montgomery, Ala.! Recently I mailed a letter in the same Post-Office, addressed to Springfield, Mass. In about ten days my correspondent in Springfield wrote that my letter had reached him also by way of Montgomery, Ala.! Pray, Mr. Fowler, what does it mean?

Z.

New-York, Friday, Dec. 28.

Judge's Stationary.

We mentioned the other day in our report of the Aldermen's proceedings something in relation to stationary of one of our Judges, to the amount of $450.

We are informed that there was an error, not in our report, but in the statement made in the Board, —that he did not order any, and had nothing to do with the nature or amount of that sent him. That no such amount was received by him; but that some was sent him, in accordance with the custom, and probably the usual amount, but more than he needs or will retain.

Hard Shell Celebration on the Eighth of January.

The Young Men's National Democratic Club met at their rooms on Saturday night, Gen. Elijah Ward, President, in the Chair. On motion of C. Godfrey Gunther, it was resolved that the Club would celebrate the approaching Anniversary of the Battle of New-Orleans by a dinner to be given at the Metropolitan Hotel. A number of Committees were appointed to carry out the objects of the resolution, and after the transaction of usual and routine business, the Club adjourned, subject to the call of the President.

☞ The disaffected commuters, who live along the line of the Harlem, Second and Third avenue Railroads, are moving to start a steamboat to run daily between Peck-slip and Harlem, making stops at Tenth, Eighty-sixth, One Hundred and Sixth, and One Hundred and Twentieth streets.

☞ The Union Ferry Company pay their hands to-morrow their monthly wages. A very large supply of turkies in the office gives indication that the boys are to have their usual present of a New-Year's turkey.

☞ Disturnell's Railway and Steamship Guide is a very much enlarged and improved. In its present shape it is decidedly the best guide to which we have access.

☞ The Sixth-avenue cars ran on half-time last night, having doubled the teams in consequence of the difficulty of travel.

☞ Provide yourself with letter-stamps. After the first of January the only way to prepay letters is by stamps.

[illegible]

From the Fend-de-lac River.

On Tuesday night last, three Indians (one of whom was [illegible]) were murdered, and their bodies left to an Irish family in the town of Oconto, in this county, for burial, which they performed, but on the next day were discovered that their head had been taken off, and returned for them, when a fight ensued between the Indians and James O'Connor, and Mary of those in the house were on one side and the other. One of the Indians received a cut over one eye, and had the top of his head sawed off—killing him instantly; another received eight cuts on the top of the head, and was struck on the shoulder with a tomahawk, which he is not expected to live.

The other Indian is not dangerous, but has lost the head with the axe, but is not so dangerous as the other, notwithstanding it is feared he will lose his reason. The above-named persons were arrested yesterday by the sheriff of Brown county, and are now in jail. As the grand jury is now in session, their case will probably be attended to immediately.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

HATS, CAPS AND FURS.—WEST-END EMPORIUM, No. 128 Canal-st. Fall and Winter styles are ready. Every description of Youths' and Children's Hats; Ladies' Beaver and Felt Hummels. Ladies will find this their especial advantage to call and examine our stock of Furs.

J. W. KELLOGG.

HOLIDAY GIFTS.

PRISCE'S PROTEAN FOUNTAIN PEN, (INVARIABLE TO EVERY VARIETY.)

R. G. PRISCE, Sole Agent, No. 87 BROADWAY, COR. CHAMBERS-ST.

CARPETINGS &c.

PETERSON & HUMPHREY, No. 279 Broadway,

[illegible] in the following low [illegible]

Also, a large [illegible]

CURTAIN GOODS

of every description, equally low.

PETERSON & HUMPHREY, No. 279 Broadway.

LIMITS TAKEN OFF.—WE WILL, FOR THE balance of the season, sell from our yet large and superior STOCK OF WINTER CLOTHING, at wholesale cost and profit or cost; a rare chance for merchants, as we are sure of the cold weather before us.

DEVLIN & JESUP, Nos. 59 and 61 John-st., corner of Nassau.

GENIN'S HOLIDAY CARD.

The Christmas week, with its [illegible] of jewelry and varied [illegible] unknown. It upon us, and as its fitting accompaniment, GENIN has the pleasure of announcing his

HOLIDAY HAT

for 1855, the most fascinating and elegant form Chapeau that has been placed on an American head, or carried in the hand of a gentleman into an American drawing-room on the first of January. Manufactured of the finest material, in the most perfect manner, and in the most tasteful shape, it is a brilliant example of how far the art of hat making is advanced in the fabrication of the style of art now in introduced in the fabrication of the style of hat, which, as a Vienna Hat, is already universally in lightness, richness and permanent esteem. The display of is also particularly select and attractive, comprising Sable, Royal Ermine, Marten, Mink, Chinchilla, &c., made up as Talmas, Muffs, Cloaks, Victorines, Gloves and Collars in the newest French modes. Mink sets from $25 to $100 each. The finest sets are made of the most beautiful and well as the choicest specimens of the most beautiful and fashionable fur ever exhibited for sale in this country.

LADIES' FURS

The attention of the public is also invited to GENIN'S luxurious assortment of suitable for business men, travelers, opera-goers, &c., and embracing every shape and variety of style, that have yet been introduced either in this country or in Europe. The Boys' Soft Hat Department also is one of the most unlimited field for choice as regards size and colors.

SOFT HATS,

CHILDREN'S PLAIN AND FANCY HATS AND CAPS adapted to the season, an absolutely beautiful diversity of styles. The Ladies' Riding Hat Department was renewed by the importation of the Paris fashions for the month, and contains everything attractive that is now to be found in Paris or London. The Bonnet styles from the Genin factory are also particularly elegant and tempting, and persons who wish to crown their darlings with a new and pretty bonnet, this Winter, would do well to call during the present week.

All the above named articles are of the class that sustains the people's honor as being of more permanent and serviceable character. In consistence with the rule to which he owes his success, the undersigned offers every article in his stock at a very moderate advance on first cost, and has even reduced his personal tariff of profit. Call and be satisfied during the Holidays.

HOLIDAY GIFTS,

GENIN, No. 214 Broadway, opposite St. Paul's.

GREAT FIRE IN BROOKLYN.—NEW-YORK, OCT. 12, 1855.—Messrs. S. C. HERRING & CO.: Gentlemen: We take pleasure in stating that the HERRING PATENT SAFE, which we purchased from you about a year since, has been the means of preserving our Books and Papers from fire, at the destructive fire of our store which occurred early on the morning of the 11th instant. The safe was exposed to a severe heat about eight hours, but when cooled off and opened the contents were found entirely undamaged. We cheerfully recommend your Safes to all.

BISCHOFF & BRO.

The above-mentioned Safe, which has been proved by other parties, can be seen, with all the original plates and marks as it came from the makers, at the store of the subscribers, who are sole agents for, and have on hand a large assortment of HERRING'S Patent Chrome Iron and Slaters' Safes, together with an assortment of the fire-proof Locks, together with an assortment of the [illegible] WILDER'S Patent Salamander Safes, Safes at reduced prices.

S. C. HERRING & CO.,

Green Block, Nos. 128, 129 and 130 Water-st., New-York.

A CARD.—RESTRICTIONS AS TO PRICE WILL BE REMOVED during the remainder of the season from our LARGE STOCK OF WINTER CLOTHING, consisting a full assortment of our best styles of overcoats, sacks, talmas, Winter business coats, dress and frock coats, Boys' clothing, robes, shawls and furnishing goods. As we expect our wholesale Spring trade to commence early in January, we are desirous of reducing our very large stock of Winter Clothing, and, in view of this, we, in view, will make free sales during this period only. This will afford those who have not yet provided their Winter Clothing with an opportunity of purchasing very superior garments at a very large per centage under what they can be had for in any other way.

D. DEVLIN & CO.,

Nos. 259, 259 and 260 Broadway, corner Warren-st.

AN APPROPRIATE PRESENT FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—A [illegible] of [illegible] during the holidays, a purchaser of one of KIDDER'S PATENT GAS REGULATORS will [illegible] at each [illegible] family with presents. Study your own [illegible] and buy a beautiful thing that will bring health and happiness to the family [illegible] and be convinced, as the experiments and [illegible] to prove 25 to 40 per cent saved monthly.

J. L. DOUGLASS, Sandusky, No. 348 Broadway.

FURS FOR NEW-YEAR'S PRESENTS.—WHAT can be more appropriate for a New-Year's gift to a lady than a beautiful Fur? BANTAY offers to a lady mink, sable, marten, ermine, fitch, chinchilla, [illegible] and rock marten. The cases or dresses, muffs and cuffs in sets, varying in price from $25 to $100, and sets of Furs of different styles, for children, equally low. Our readers who are looking for a present, and will be [illegible] are advised to call and make a selection at BANTAY'S, No. 165 Canal-st., corner of Wooster.

SINGER'S SEWING MACHINES.—OUR LIBERAL and adaptable plan of exchanging our improved machines for old machines or every kind in limited with the [illegible] The Avery, Wheeler, Grover & Baker, Hunt, Davenport, and [illegible] machines are coming in rapidly to be exchanged. The chance for a profitable bargain is a great one. Apply at our New-York office personally or by letter.

I. M. SINGER & CO., No. 323 Broadway.

SILVER-PLATED COFFEE URNS, CAKE BASKETS, TABLE CASTERS, TEA SETS, Forks, Spoons, Ladles, Toast Racks, &c., Britannia Ware in sets or single pieces. Japanned Tea Trays, fine assortment, oval, square and gothic patterns. Four-handled Table Cutlery, with and without forks, for sale at the lowest rates by WHITE & KNAPP, No. 200 Fulton, corner of Pineapple-st., Brooklyn.

STEARNS & MARVIN'S WILDER PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES.

Thirteen years in use, and have never failed to preserve their contents from the ravages of fire. These Safes secured by Stearns' Lift Bolts, which is proof against powder and burglars. For sale by STEARNS & MARVIN, No. 146 Water-st., New-York.

BROCATELLE, SATIN DE LAINES, DAMASKS, CORNICES, WINDOW SHADES, LACE CURTAINS, &c.—KELTY & FERGUSON, No. 291 Broadway, have a large stock of the above goods, personally selected from the best manufactories in France. Some new styles never before brought out. K. & F. have established a reputation for selling goods cheap, and their large and increasing trade is a proof that it is appreciated. No. 291 Broadway and Reade-st.

WIGS, WIGS, WIGS.

BATCHELOR'S Wigs and Toupees surpass in elegance and variety, all in the known world. The perfection of [illegible] and durability. Also, BATCHELOR'S famed Hair Dye, Mexican Cream, for preserving and strengthening the hair.

BATCHELOR'S, No. 233 Broadway.

PRESENTS FOR THE NEW YEAR.—EVERY VARIETY of rich and fancy articles, including [illegible] Cigar boxes, dressing cases, toilet bottles, [illegible] and [illegible] figures, &c., together with an assortment of watches and jewelry at OSBORNE, BOARDMAN & TOWNSEND'S, No. 347 Broadway, corner of Grand-st.

JET BRACELETS, NECKLACES AND BROOCHES AT HALF OF THE USUAL PRICE.—A large stock of the most [illegible] and [illegible] just received from last [illegible] will be sold in connection with every variety of Fancy Goods and Toys for the Holidays, at BOGERT'S Cheap Fancy Bazaar, No. 449 Broadway.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE, WIGS AND TOUPEES stand pre-eminent above all others. Gentlemen can be waited on in the most elegant private rooms, applying his famous dye, the best article of its kind. His new style of wigs and toupees are perfection itself. Wholesale and retail at CRISTADORO'S, No. 6 Astor House.

BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE.—THE ORIGINAL, THE Reliable, the Incomparable—the only safe and perfect article of the kind known. Tested by thousands without the least injury to hair or skin, and is warranted to cure the ill effects of bad Dyes. Made and sold, or applied, at BATCHELOR'S Wig Factory, No. 233 Broadway.

FINE WINES, PURE BRANDIES, HOLT GORRAL, &c., &c.—A general assortment will be found at the Tun and Spigot store of DAVID WARE, Junction Canal and Division-sts., three doors east of Laurens.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

WILL BE READY TO-MORROW,
A NEW CHRISTMAS STORY, FOR 1856,
THREE HOLIDAY TIMES, 1856.
Trade supplied by DIX & EDWARDS,
No. 10 Park-place, New-York.

HOW TO GET A DOLLAR MAGAZINE GRATIS!—By sending THREE DOLLARS to D. A. WOODWORTH, No. 416 Broadway, New-York, you will receive WOODWORTH'S YOUTH'S CABINET, and any one of the three Dollar Magazines which you may select. Now is the time to subscribe for all the magazines.

AN IMPORTANT NATIONAL WORK,
BEING THE MOST ELEGANT AND SUITABLE GIFT OF THE SEASON.
CYCLOPÆDIA OF AMERICAN LITERATURE.

Embracing personal and critical notices of Authors, and selections from their writings, from the earliest period to the present day. By E. A. DUYCKINCK and G. L. DUYCKINCK. 2 vols., 8vo. With fac-similes of autographs, and 72 views of Colleges, Churches, and Residences of Authors, and elegant steel engravings of J. Fenimore Cooper and Benjamin Franklin. 2 vols. royal 8vo.
Bound in fine English cloth, gilt edges, $16.
Do. do. half calf, neat Library style, price $18.
Do. do. full morocco and half extra, $18.
From the Boston Morning Transcript.
This work will become a standard authority, and should have a wide circulation. What better book than this can be named for a present to an author?
From the New-York Daily Times.
It is indeed a work adapted to adorn any library, public or private.
From the Boston Traveller.
It has been prepared with such thoroughness, judgment, and impartiality, that it will become at once the standard History of American Literature.
From the Home Journal.
In all respects the work has been thoroughly and well done.
From the Buffalo Express.
It is one of the most useful publications of the age—it is a perfect treasure.
From the Buffalo Courier.
One of the most valuable additions to American literature that has been made during the present century.
From the New-York Tribune.
Apart from the general excellence of the plan, which can scarcely be commended in terms of extravagant praise, it possesses a fine aroma of literature, showing the vigilance of the editors in saving out many scattered flowers by the wayside, and weaving them into the odorous and brilliant wreath which they have gathered from such a wide variety of sources.
From Putnam's Magazine.
It will be regarded as one of the most valuable contributions to the historical department of our letters that has been made in a long while.
From the Boston Traveller.
It is indeed a cyclopædia of American literature, and an American Biographical Dictionary.
From the Boston Daily Advertiser.
Its scope embraces a history of our literature, a compendium of anecdote from it in all its stages, the biography of almost all the leading men of the country, and accounts of the rise and progress and influence of our literary institutions. The result is a very valuable contribution to the library and the parlor.
From the Boston Post.
The book has a sterling value in it, and its curious and rare material makes it a valuable accession to any library.
From the Boston Journal.
They have produced a work that is both invaluable for reference, and interesting as a literary production. It is a grand monument erected to American mind.
NEW EDITION.
LIFE AND EPISTLES OF ST. PAUL.
By Rev. W. J. CONYBEARE and Rev. J. S. HOWSON.
2 vols., 8vo, in full morocco, $13; in half calf, neat, $6; in cloth, $5.
LIVES OF THE BRITISH HISTORIANS.
By THOMAS LAVENSON.
2 vols., 12mo, morocco extra, $6; half calf, extra, $4; cloth, $3 50.
From the Protestant Churchman.
This work is exceedingly timely, filling a gap in biography which we are surprised has so long remained opened, now to be occupied and adorned by an American pen. We regard this work as a truly valuable contribution to American letters, and as entitled to a place among the production of our standard authors.
CHARLES SCRIBNER,
No. 145 Nassau-st., New-York.

A LARGE STOCK OF JUVENILE BOOKS,
AT
R. CARTER & BROTHERS', No. 285 Broadway.
Among their more recent publications of this class are:
TALES OF THE TRAVELLERS. By MARIA HOOK. With cts.
TALES FROM ENGLISH HISTORY. Illustrated. 75 cents.
AUNT EDITH. By the author of "Florence Egerton." 50 cents.
KATE KILBURN. By the author of "Jessie Morrison." 75 cents.
NELLIE OF TEURO. By the author of "Vara." $1.
EMILY VERNON. By MRS. DRUMMOND. 75 cents.
ASHTON COTTAGE. A Tale. 50 cents.
FAMILY AT HEATHERDALE. By MRS. MACKAY. 50 cents.
THE MINISTER'S FAMILY. 12mo; 75 cents.
THE FOOTSTEPS OF ST. PAUL. 12mo; $1.
FLORENCE EGERTON. 16mo; 75 cents.
JEANIE MORRISON. 16 mo; 75 cents.
LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF SCOTTISH LIFE. 75 cents.
FAIRE-DROP. By MRS. BROCKMAN. 75 cents.
MAMMA'S BIBLE STORIES. 50 cents.
SEQUEL TO MAMMA'S BIBLE STORIES.
LITTLE ANNIE'S First and Second Books. 2 vols; 75 cents.
VERY LITTLE TALES FOR VERY LITTLE CHILDREN. 3 vols. 75 cents.
LITTLE LESSONS FOR LITTLE LEARNERS. 50 cents.
CLAREMONT TALES. 12mo, 50 cents.
BOLTON'S CALL TO THE LAMBS. 50 cents.
BOLTON'S TENDER GRASS. 50 cents.
Also, a large assortment of ELEGANT BOOKS, in fine binding, comprising all the new books of the season. Among them are:
COWPER'S TASK. Illustrated by BIRKET FOSTER. Printed on fine tinted paper. Small quarto, cloth, full gilt, $4 50; Turkey morocco antique, $8.
SCOTT'S BARDS. Illustrated. Turkey morocco antique, $6 50.
HENRY'S COMMENTARY ON THE BIBLE. 5 vols. 4to, half calf, $20.
GRAY'S POEMS. Illustrated. Cloth, gilt, $1 50; morocco, $3 50.
MORNING AND NIGHT WATCHES. Gilt. $1.
THE MIND AND WORDS OF JESUS. In one vol., full gilt, $1.
JAY'S EXERCISES. 4 vols., Turkey morocco, $12.
KITTO'S DAILY BIBLE ILLUSTRATIONS. 3 vols. hf. cf., $12. ROBERT CARTER & BROTHERS,
No. 285 Broadway.

NEW EDUCATIONAL MAGAZINE.
AMERICAN JOURNAL OF EDUCATION AND COLLEGE REVIEW.
NOW READY FOR JANUARY, 1856.
The Publisher takes pleasure in announcing the FIRST CLASS EDUCATIONAL MAGAZINE, to be conducted by ABSALOM PETERS, D. D., and Hon. S. S. RANDALL, containing original productions from the leading practical educationists of our country; a work long needed to advance the interests of education in America.
CONTENTS.
PORTRAIT OF ABBOTT LAWRENCE, a fine steel engraving.
I. EDITORIAL INTRODUCTION.
II. UNCONSCIOUS TUITION. By Prof. F. D. HUNTINGTON, of Harvard University.
III. THE DEMOCRATIC TENDENCIES OF SCIENCE. By Prof. DENISON OLMSTED, of Yale College.
IV. IMPROVEMENTS PRACTICABLE IN AMERICAN COLLEGES. By Prof. F. A. P. BARNARD, of the University of Mississippi.
V. POPULAR EDUCATION IN CANADA. By J. G. HODGINS, of Toronto.
VI. BENEFACTORS OF EDUCATION, LITERATURE AND SCIENCE.
VII. ABBOTT LAWRENCE.
VIII. THE LAWRENCE SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL. Illustration.
IX. AMERICAN COLLEGES. HISTORY OF ILLINOIS COLLEGE.
X. RICHMOND FEMALE INSTITUTE. Four illustrations.
XI. EDUCATIONAL INTELLIGENCE.
The AMERICAN JOURNAL OF EDUCATION AND COLLEGE REVIEW will be published monthly. Each number to contain ninety-six octavo pages, and the year comprise two semi-annual volumes of more than five hundred pages each.
TERMS—THREE DOLLARS a year in advance, or TWENTY-FIVE CENTS a number.
N. A. CALKINS, Publisher,
No. 348 Broadway, New-York.

"A WORK OF GREAT PRACTICAL VALUE."
FIVE HUNDRED MISTAKES, OF DAILY OCCURRENCE,
IN WRITING, SPEAKING AND PRONOUNCING THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE, CORRECTED.
This volume conveys practical instruction of the most indispensable character. It takes up five hundred of the common mistakes in the use of language, and corrects them in a vivid and striking manner, which serves to make a deep and enduring impression upon the memory of the reader.
It should be in the hands of every individual, male and female, young and old, who is conscious of faulty modes of expression in the daily intercourse of life. It is a work which cannot fail to be highly prized by all who read it. A person who reads it through with care, two or three times, will thereby acquire an amount of practical instruction which has never before been published in the same compass. Price 37½ cents.
Published by DANIEL BURGESS & CO.,
No. 60 John-st., New-York.

HOME GAMES FOR THE PEOPLE.
A useful Holiday Gift.—A collection of FAMILY AMUSEMENTS,
for the Parlor, Parlor or Tic-Nic Parties—consisting of 150 Games of Action, Games Taxing the Attention, Games of Memory, Games of Combination, Games of Forfeits, Games of Pure Intelligence and Imagination. Also, Directions for the Conduct of Parties, &c.
FOR THE USE OF OLD AND YOUNG.
16mo., 160 pages. Price, bound in cloth, 37½ cents; with paper cover, 25 cents. PHILIP J. COZANS, Publisher,
No. 107 Nassau-st., New-York.

HAPPY NEW YEAR,
AT THE BOOKSTORE OF T. J. CROWEN,
No. 366 Broadway, corner of 4th-st.,
CHOICE BOOKS IN SUPERB BINDING,
A variety of FANCY ARTICLES.
Useful Stationery, amusing games, &c., &c.
Call early to secure a select choice.

MORRIS & WILLIS'
HOME JOURNAL,
FOR 1856.
The following are the inducements to subscribe: A new novel by N. P. WILLIS, a series of Sketches by Gen. MORRIS, and a Novelette by J. H. FIELD. Subscribe at once. Terms $3 a year. Office No. 107 Fulton-st., New-York.

LIVINGSTON'S LIVING AGE, every Saturday, $6 a year.
PANORAMA OF LIFE AND LITERATURE, monthly, $3 a year. LIVINGSTON, SON & CO.,
Boston, and No. 346 Broadway, New-York.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

MUNSON AND THOMPSON,
No. 138 Nassau-st.,
HAVE RECENTLY PUBLISHED:
I.
FAMILY PASTIMES, or Home and Have. A Collection of Games for the Social Circle. This work is now full and ready for the press. It contains about 300 pages, 12mo, including some new and original games. It is the best collection before the public. Gilt edges and cloth. Price 75 cents.
II.
HOME COMPOSITE; or, The Recovery of Living Well. Familiarly Illustrated. 12mo. Price 75 cents. This book is quite a novelty. In the form of a highly interesting story, it gives many valuable hints upon matters of home economy. It is written in charming style, its incidents are pleasing, and its value unquestionable.
III.
THE SHAKSPEARIAN ORACLE; or, PARLOR FORTUNE-TELLER.
"Instantly unlock my fastened hoard."
The responses to the questions of this "ORACLE" are drawn exclusively from SHAKSPEARE. It is witty, pointed, racy and rich. Published in an elegant little volume, gilt sides and edges. Price 75 cents.
IV.
THE OLD HOMESTEAD. By Mrs. ANN S. STEPHENS. 12mo. Price $1 25. No more suitable gift could be made to a friend than a copy of this distinguished romance. Its popularity increases rather than abates.
V.
THE ROMANCE OF THE REVOLUTION. A History of the Exploits, Adventures, Romantic Incidents, and Domestic Trials of the People of the Revolution. A New Edition. Large 12mo, extra gilt sides and edges. $2. The contents of this work do not appear in the regular histories. It possesses all the fascination of a romance united with the truth of history.
BOOKS FOR PRESENTS.
A Large Assortment of Juvenile Works, Games, &c.

SENSIBLE GIFT-BOOKS.
We have, beside the popular books of the day, the more substantial and useful—Works on Education, Physical, Intellectual and Moral; Agriculture, Fruit-Growing, Mechanics, Temperance, Reforms, including Phonography, Hydropathy, Dietetics, Phrenology, Physiology, Psychology, Geology, Gymnastics, Dictionaries, &c. &c.
FOWLERS AND WELLS, No. 308 Broadway.

THE MOST ELEGANT GIFT BOOKS OF THE SEASON.
RANGE BROTHER & CO.,
No. 13 Park-row, New-York,
Are the Publisher's Agents for supplying the following Splendid New English Works:
THE RHINE; ITS SCENERY AND ROMANTIC LEGENDS. $6.
II.
CAMPBELL'S PLEASURES OF HOPE. Illustrated. $2.
III.
MILTON, L'ALLEGRO and IL PENSEROSO. Illustrated. $2.
IV.
BOOK OF BEAUTY, AND COURT ALBUM, 1855. $4 50.
V.
THE VICAR OF WAKEFIELD. Elegantly Illustrated. $2.
VI.
THE LONDON KEEPSAKE, 1855. $4 50.
THE BOOK OF CELEBRATED POEMS. Illustrated.
PUNCH'S PICTURES OF LIFE AND CHARACTER. 2000 cuts. $2 50.
BROWN, JONES AND ROBINSON'S FOREIGN TOUR $2.
RETSCHE'S ILLUSTRATIONS TO SHAKSPEARE. $10.
"MR. PIFF'S DYARIE"—MANNERS AND CUSTOMS OF THE ENGLISHE. $4.
PORTRAIT GALLERY OF THE FEMALE ARISTOCRACY. 2 vols. $15.
HEATH'S SHAKSPEARE'S HEROINES. $10.
HISTORICAL AND LITERARY CURIOSITIES. 100 plates. $16.
And a great number of equally elegant and splendid Illustrated Books, English Juveniles, Books of Prints, &c. For particulars see Catalogues, which may be had on application.
Choice Library Editions, in the Richest Bindings, by the best London Workmen, a most extensive and attractive variety, including many valuable sets—THE ALDINE POETS—QUARTERLY REVIEW, complete—RETROSPECTIVE REVIEW, &c.—BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE, &c.—NATURALIST'S LIBRARY, 50 volumes. The Works of

BURNS,	HEMANS,
BYRON,	JOHNSON,
COWPER,	LINGARD,
CRABBE,	LOCKE,
DEFOE,	MILTON,
EDGEWORTH,	MOORE,
EVERETT,	POPE,
FIELDING,	SOUTHEY,
GIBBON,	SMOLLETT,
HUME,	SCOTT,
HALLAM,	WORDSWORTH,
WALPOLE,

And others too numerous to mention, offered to the Trade and Public on the most favorable terms.

BOYS AND GIRLS!
WILL BE READY ON SATURDAY:
THE SCHOOLFELLOW.
ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.
ORIGINAL
CONTENTS OF No. 1, Vol. 3.
A Christmas Ballad. By A. W. H.
About New-York. By PHILIP WALLYS.
Snow at Christmas. By PAUL READ.
Brothers and Sisters; or, the Lessons of a Summer. By Cousin Alice.
Story of the Great War. By J. W. P.
Peter Parley Back Again. By the Editor.
The Furries—All About Fur—Fur Animals—Fur Hunters and Fur Countries. By M. S. G.
A True Story. By PAUL READ.
To Our Readers—Young and Old.
Fireside Fancies.
Charades.
New Books.
ILLUSTRATIONS.
Rosy's Dream.
Santa Claus and the Poor Children.
The Christmas Dinner.
Boys Sliding Down Hill.
The Sultan Going to Mosque.
Gilbert on the Back of the Hippopotamus.
The Giant's Causeway.
Paris.
The Ermine.
The Weasel.
The SCHOOLFELLOW may be obtained of Booksellers, News Agents, or of the Publishers.
TERMS—$1 a year, (payable always in advance,) or 10 cents a number.
CLUBS.—Four copies of the SCHOOLFELLOW, to one address, $3 00; eight copies, $6. Either PUTNAM'S MONTHLY or HOUSEHOLD WORDS, will be sent with the SCHOOLFELLOW, to one address, $3 50. All three of these Magazines for $5 50.
Canvassers wanted for every State in the Union.
PUTNAM'S MONTHLY and HOUSEHOLD WORDS, to one address, $5; PUTNAM'S MONTHLY, or HOUSEHOLD WORDS, with the SCHOOLFELLOW, to one address, $3 50; or all three of the Magazines, $6 50.
DIX & EDWARD, No. 10 Park-place, New-York.

THE INDIAN FAIRY-BOOK.
FROM ORIGINAL LEGENDS.
ILLUSTRATED BY JOHN MCLENAN.
1 vol., 12mo. Price $1. Full gilt, gilt edges, $1 50.
CONTENTS:
I. The Celestial Sisters; II. The Boy who set a Snare for the Sun; III. Strong Bears and the Red Sorcerer; IV. The Wonderful Exploits of Strongbow; V. Osseo, the Son of the Evening Star; VI. Gray Eagle and his Five Brothers; VII. The Total-Women; VIII. The Origin of the Robin; IX. White Feather and the Six Giants; X. Sheen, the Forsaken Boy; XI. The Magic Bundle; XII. The Red Swan; XIII. The Man with his Leg tied up; XIV. The Little Spirit, or the Pow-Maw; XV. The Enchanted Moccasins; XVI. Hiawatha and the Little Shell; XVII. Mondamin, the Strength-Maker; XVIII. Lelinda, the Lost Daughter; XIX. The Winter Spirit; XX. The Fire-Plume; XXI. Weendigoes and the Bone-Dwarf; XXII. The Bird Lover; XXIII. Bobowa, the Hunchback; XXIV. The Crane that Crossed the River; XXV. Wunzh, the Father of Indian Corn.
From the New-York Dispatch.
We have here a collection of Indian fairy legends which equal in romantic interest and quaint extravagance of fancy, the tales of the nursery with which we are all familiar, or even the most gorgeous and fanciful of Eastern stories.
From the Cor. Boston Atlas.
The story of the Celestial Sisters, with which it opens, equals anything in this branch of literature, even the far famed fairy-tales of Eastern lands.
From the Boston Post.
The tales of the volume before us are not from the dreamy and voluptuous East, but from our own West—the land of the Indian, of rugged romance, of danger, and yet of beauty and enchantment. It will be read with delight.
From the Toledo Blade.
The work consists of a number of fairy and magical stories, resembling in romantic interest and quaint extravagance of fancy, the Arabian Nights' Entertainment, and other world-renowned tales of Europe and the East; possessing, however, this additional interest, that the people from whose traditions they are derived, are "people of our own acquaintance," living as they do in our own times, and in our own country. It will be read with rare avidity.
From the Philadelphia City Item.
A beautiful Holiday gift. The stories are charmingly told, and live in the memory. A young reader at our elbow pronounces the book "splendid," "magnificent," "gorgeous," unequalled, etc., by which it will be understood that he was delighted with it.
Published by MASON BROTHERS, New-York.

BLANK BOOKS
FOR THE NEW YEAR.
Merchants and others in want of Blank Books for the new year are respectfully requested to call and examine my stock be every variety made. Also, of every description necessary for the counting-room at reasonable prices.
STATIONERY
F. W. BONNEBORN, Bookseller and Stationer,
No. 149 Nassau-st.

STANDARD ILLUSTRATED BOOKS.—SUPERB PRESENTATION COPIES.—BEAUTIES OF MOORE; forty-eight exquisite engravings, with descriptive letter-press. FLOWERS OF LOVELINESS; forty groups of female figures, embellishments of flowers. COMPLETE WORKS OF HOGARTH; produced in a style worthy that inimitable artist. COMPLETE WORKS OF SHAKSPEARE; 100 portraits in succession of the celebrated American actors, taken by the Daguerreotype. A great variety of elegant Books suited to the present time. The London Printing and Publishing Company.
E. H. BRAIN, Agent, No. 81 Ann-st., New-York.

CLEAR THE TRACK.—DISTURNELL'S NEW RAILWAY AND STEAMSHIP GUIDE FOR 1856, with Maps. Price 25 cents. Just published and for sale, wholesale and retail, by J. DISTURNELL, No. 197 Broadway.

BEAUTIFUL FRAMED ENGRAVINGS—Suitable for presents; also Albums, poems of Oil and Water Colors, Drawing Cases, &c., for sale by W. SCHAUB, No. 351 Broadway.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

DIXEY & WASHBURN.
THEIR LIST OF CHOICE GIFT BOOKS IS A COMPLETE ONE.
Of the various editions of Irving's Washington, they have volumes 1 and 2 are now ready, and will be followed about 10th January, 1856, by the first volume, on fine paper, and in fine type, on the same plan, and uniform with the other volumes, price per vol. in cloth, $2; in half calf, gilt, $3; half calf, extra, $3.
The first volume will contain a fine steel engraving of Washington, from Stuart's original picture, and three maps, illustrating the Revolutionary Campaigns.
The second volume will contain a fine steel engraving of Washington in the Revolutionary Army, from a picture in the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, and a map.
The third volume will contain the portrait of Washington, (the earliest) at the age of forty, with some other plates.
The third volume will contain the sixteen years from 1784 to 1799, or Washington from Mount Vernon to Mount Vernon.
The fourth volume will contain the sixteen years from 1799 to 1815, or Washington in the Retirement of Mount Vernon.
The fifth volume will contain the sixteen years from 1815 to 1831, or Washington in the Retirement of Mount Vernon.
The sixth volume will contain the sixteen years from 1831 to 1847, or Washington in the Retirement of Mount Vernon.
The whole work will be issued in uniform style, and will not exceed 1,000 pages.
N. B.—No time will be lost in issuing the work, and the delay in the last has been unavoidable, in order to enable the distinguished author to thoroughly revise, correct, and to render it in all respects worthy of the reputation and the great success so universally given to the first volume. No intelligent reader, it is presumed, will be dissatisfied at a few weeks' delay in order to secure an important work when the same is recorded for the reader's benefit.
From the Newark Advertiser.
It was somewhat fitting that the brightest name in history should have not its resolution, for its commemoration, one of the most elegant and accomplished men of literature, a gentleman of taste, whose literary fame extensively known a brief time, for many years, been occupied upon this work, the first volume of which is here now the pleasure to announce. It has been elaborated with great patience and care, and is not more remarkable for its excellent general and moral style than for the richness of its biographical and historical details. It contains much that has not found its way into any previous life of Washington; and even if it had been nothing more than the old material, sanctified over by that great name, that lends enchantment to everything it touches, it would still have been justly regarded as a bright gem in our literature.
From the Sterling Bulletin, Philadelphia.
It is evident that the author has not only carefully investigated a vast amount of original materials to which few persons could have had access, but that he also has devoted many years to a most congenial subject. In justice to the publishers, we add, that the work is got up in a style well worthy of its subject.
From the Pittsburg Gazette.
This may be said to be the only Life of Washington ever written. Irving has thrown around his story the grace of his brilliant style, and imparted a variety to the dress which never gilded the dry annals of the Father of his Country. His work is a real, solid acquisition to the literature of the age, and will take its place among those favored few which will go down to posterity.
From the New-York Courier and Enquirer.
This is the Life of Washington that will be read; others hereafter will only be referred to.
From Bolton's Reporter.
Every sentence is stamped with the individuality of genius.
Mr. C. T. Evans, through his agents, is now supplying the second volume to subscribers in New-York and vicinity. All subscribers will be supplied by the singular appointed agents. The work will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of the publication price, by
G. P. PUTNAM & CO.,
Publishers, No. 10 Park-place.

HOLIDAY DIVERTISEMENTS!!!
Now Ready,
A new edition of that most beautiful and entirely original
ENTERTAINMENT FOR CHILDREN,
FANNY GRAY;
A History of her Life, in a series of six beautiful Pictures, from new and exquisite designs, printed in oil colors, in the best style of the art. With poetical descriptions.
From the Evening Gazette.
Messrs. Crosby, Nichols & Co., Boston, have published a series of beautiful designs, painted in oil colors, with an accompanying story in verse entitled "Fanny Gray," which gives the history of her life, which the exquisite figures are designed to illustrate. Little Fanny is represented in six different characters; once she was a cottage girl, and had a happy home, which looks very attractive in the picture; then fortune frowned, and she became a wanderer and sold matches, till kind-hearted "Farmer Weston" took her home, where she fed his chickens, and gathered the wild flowers from hill and moor, till in her character of flower girl she is discovered by her rich uncle, who takes her home and a little lady; all of which may be tastefully shown by figures as the story proceeds. The whole is one of the neatest and most delightful gifts for children that we have ever seen.
HARRY AND AGGIE; or, THE RIDE.
A new series of Figures for the amusement of Boys and Girls. Entirely new designs, with a story in verse.
Harry and Aggie will be ready for publication on the 15th inst., and will be found one of the most pleasant novelties of the season.
MOLL PITCHER'S OFFERING;
Or,
FAMILIAR FORTUNE HUNTERS.
A Series of Cards designed for the amusement of the Old and Young.
To be ready on the 5th inst.
ALSO, NOW READY,
FIVE ELEGANTLY ILLUSTRATED BOOKS FOR CHILDREN:
MOLLY AND KITTY.—With six colored Illustrations.
THE LOVE OF COUNTRY.—With six colored Illustrations.
THE BEARS OF AUGUSTUSBERG.—With six colored Illustrations.
THE WIND-SPIRIT AND THE RAIN-GODDESS.—With nearly 100 colored Illustrations.
A great variety of Juvenile Books by popular authors. Orders from the trade solicited.
CROSBY, NICHOLS & CO.,
No. 111 Washington-st., Boston.

"They will make the eyes of the children sparkle."
Hartford Republican.
I.
THE TRAVELS, VOYAGES, AND ADVENTURES
OF GILBERT GO-AHEAD IN FOREIGN PARTS.
EDITED BY PETER PARLEY.
12mo, pp. 395, embellished with engravings from original designs.
II.
THE BALLOON TRAVELS
OF ROBERT MERRY AND HIS YOUNG FRIENDS,
OVER VARIOUS COUNTRIES OF EUROPE.
12mo, pp. 319, embellished likewise.
From the Boston Post.
Peter Parley "still lives." J. C. Derby has issued two new volumes by Peter Parley, the ever moral, instructive and entertaining. They are destined to make many bright little eyes twinkle, and many rosy little mouths water. Any boy or girl, from ten to fifteen, would dest upon them, and we are not sure that children of a larger growth would not gather information and entertainment from their pages.
From the New-York Tribune.
Every child in the United States who has any taste for good books will brighten up at the name of the venerable Peter Parley. Two new volumes from his charmingly garrulous pen will be as welcome as are the Thanksgiving roast turkey. Beside the doubtful talk which Peter Parley gives you in these books, they are full of fine engravings which almost make you feel as if you had seen the curiosities he tells about.
From the Hartford Daily Courant.
We see no other way for parents to do than to buy both, and give one of them to the son, and one to the daughter. The price is $1 each, or in full gilt sides and edges, $1 50. For sale at the bookstores, or sent by mail on receipt of price. J. C. DERBY, Publisher, New-York.

SHERMAN & CO.,
NO. 1 VESEY-ST., (ASTOR HOUSE,)
Are happy to inform their friends and the public that they have now ready a stock of BOOKS FOR THE HOLIDAYS,
Of an unusually attractive character, (suitable for persons of all ages,) if anything superior, and at prices equally low with that of last year; among which may be found a splendid assortment of
ELEGANTLY ILLUSTRATED, POETICAL AND STANDARD BOOKS, PARTICULARLY ADAPTED FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW-YEAR'S PRESENTS,
Suited for every taste. We have
BOOKS FOR THE YOUNG PEOPLE,
In almost endless variety.
JAMES B. SHERMAN,
No. 607 Broadway, New-York, under the Waverley Hotel.

NEW MUSIC FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS AT HALF PRICE.—Beautiful music 4c for 2 8c. Until Jan. 1, 1856, we offer our large stock of MUSIC at half price. Extra discount to the trade and purchasers for cash. Our first-class PIANOS will be retailed at wholesale prices. All other articles at the same reduced prices. Catalogues of our latest and greatest Monthly sent free of postage to all parts of the country. Persons requesting us to select any particular piece of Music, or any music, get the best of pieces. COOK & BROS., Publishers.

BLANK BOOKS AND STATIONERY.—FRANCIS & LOUTREL, No. 216 Pearl-st., Stationers, Publishers and Book-binders, respectfully inform their friends and others, that they are supplied with everything in their line, at the lowest prices. Diaries and Daily Journals for 1856, all styles. Orders receive prompt attention.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

BOOKS IN THIS SEASON FOR THE HOLIDAYS.
STANDARD.
With steel portrait, 12mo, cloth, $1 25
The same, Turkey morocco, antique, $3 50
ALSO,
Full gilt sides and edges, $1 50
The same, Turkey morocco, antique, $3 50
THE MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.
Full gilt sides and edges, $1 50
The same, Turkey morocco, antique, $3 50
THE DEBATE, Revised and Corrected.
And for sale by all Booksellers.

THE OLD FAVORITE HOLIDAY RESORT,
AT
WHITEHURST, 439 BROADWAY,
UNDER BARNUM'S MUSEUM,
H. A. Whitehurst begs to inform his friends and patrons, their Annual Holiday Catalogue of valuable Standard and Elegant Gift-Books,
SUITABLE FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW-YEAR PRESENTS, which may be called at their store, No. 439 Broadway, TWO AND THREE DOLLARS, CONTAINING MANY CHOICE AND ATTRACTIVE WORKS, gratuitously with care for their convenience.
FOR THEIR YOUNGER FRIENDS
They have on display "STOREHOUSE" of AMUSEMENT, GIFT BOOKS, JUVENILES, ALBUMS, GAMES, TOY-BOOKS, PORTFOLIOS, &c. Their assortment in this department remains same as formerly. Without a rival. Their selection of ELEGANT STANDARD LITERATURE,
Poetry, History, Biography, Novels, &c., adapted for Presentation Gifts for the Holiday or Social Circle, is unexcelled in its elegant and substantial binding, beauty of typography, and variety of subject. Under this head they would direct attention to their new and beautiful edition of the NOVELS OF COOPER.
Complete in Thirty-Two Volumes.
As a superb National Pageant for the American Home Library, elegantly bound in all the novel styles.
N. B.—No better resort can be found during the Holidays than at their old favorite establishment. Their prices have always proved to be lower than contemporary houses, as a glance at their stock will convince the public. They will still keep this reputation, as the "nimble sixpence is better than the slow shilling."
CALL AT NO. 439 BROADWAY.
CHEAP BOOK EMPORIUM.
No. 82 Broadway, under the American Museum.
Packages will be delivered throughout the City, free of expense.

THE NEW-YORK
MUSICAL REVIEW AND GAZETTE
Commences its Seventh Year, and a New Volume, in January, 1856. In calling attention to the Review, its publishers believe they can present to the public no more satisfactory evidence of its merits than a simple statement that it is attended in its constantly increasing success. It has now about three times as large a circulation as any other musical periodical in the world. Its receipts from subscribers during the last six months have been more than double those for the corresponding period of the year previous. In the opinion of many of its patrons, the publishers are justified in increasing, as they do, its price to add to the excellence of the Review. Prizes amounting to three hundred dollars were recently offered by them for songs for its pages. Of the vast number sent in to compete for these prizes, the best were selected by a committee of men who are not, of course, of a nation in the Union. When the public, the subscribers to the Review will decide by ballot which shall receive the prizes.
Besides a large amount of reading matter, including regular correspondence from the leading cities of the world, each number contains several pieces of new music, a series of articles on Music Teaching, by Dr. Lowell Mason, a new in progress of publication, by Gottfried Weber, on Obligations of the Voice, Sight Reading, &c., will be commenced in the beginning of the new volume, as well as one by Wm. B. Bradbury, Esq., on the improvement of Church Music. The New-York Musical Review and Gazette is published, fortnightly, at $1 per annum, or six copies for $5, payable in advance. Specimen copies sent gratuitously.
MASON BROTHERS, New-York.

THE BIOGRAPHY OF THE DAY!
IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.
NOW READY!
THE BIOGRAPHY
OF THE
HON. FERNANDO WOOD,
MAYOR OF NEW-YORK CITY,
BY DONALD MCLEOD, ESQ.
Author of "Life of Sir Walter Scott," "Pyrenees," "Bloodstone," &c.
Mayor Wood, by his intrepid and independent course, as the Chief Magistrate of the Metropolis of our country, has won the admiration of the whole civilized world, and attracted the attention of mankind to the Biography of such a man—hence its production. The Biography, aside from interest in the man, is an exceedingly entertaining work, full of stirring incidents.
The work is written by one of our most popular Biographers—material furnished by the Mayor and various members of the family.
Published in library style, beautifully printed, on fine paper, superb binding, and will contain a splendid life-like steel plate engraving of the Mayor, by Burnet. Price $1.
Sent, postage free, on receipt of price.
Energetic agents wanted to sell the work in all parts of the United States. Address
O. P. PARSONS, Publisher, No. 140 Nassau-st., N.Y.

HOLIDAY BOOKS.
A FINE ASSORTMENT
OF FRENCH MOROCCO AND VELLUM.
DR. GARDINER SPRING'S WORKS, in eleven vols., uniform in various styles of binding, from $11 to $35 per set.
DR. J. S. SPENCER'S WORKS, in four vols., uniform, embracing Pastor's Sketches, 2 vols; and Sermons and Memoir, 2 vols; in various bindings, per set from $4 50 to $10.
CRUDEN'S COMPLETE CONCORDANCE, from $5 to $7.
ORIENTAL AND SACRED SCENES. By Fearon Howe. New edition, splendidly illustrated, from $1 50 to $5.
Together with a large assortment of books in the various departments of literature, richly bound and illustrated.
A well selected stock of JUVENILE BOOKS, Bibles, Prayer Books, Hymn Books, &c.
JUST PUBLISHED.
THE WONDERFUL PHIALS, AND OTHER STORIES. Translated from the French. By AMIA. An admirable Gift Book for the young folks. 1 vol. 18mo, price 50 cents. M. W. DODD, Brick Church Chapel.

AN APPROPRIATE GIFT BOOK.
JUST PUBLISHED.
THE SACRED PLAINS.
BY J. H. HEADLEY.
12mo. Gilt side and back. Price, $1 25.
The contents include—
I. The Plain of Shinar.
II. The Plain of Jordan.
III. The Plain of Mamre.
IV. The Plain of Moab.
V. The Plain of Jericho.
VI. The Plain of Sharon.
VII. The Plain of Zillo.
VIII. The Plain of Moreh.
IX. The Plain of Dura.
X. The Plain of Rehoboth.
XI. The Plain of Damascus.
XII. The Plain of Jezreel.
XIII. The Plain of Galilee.
With tinted Lithographs, illustration of each Plain, and descriptive and historical letter press.
Published by WANZER, McKIM & Co., Buffalo.
For sale by BUNCE & BROTHER No. 124 Nassau-st.

IN PRESS.
EVENING INCENSE.
By the author of the "Morning and Night Watches," "Words of Jesus," &c. (Ready in a few days.)
GUTHRIE'S GOSPEL IN EZEKIEL.
MOODY ON TYPICAL FORMS AND ENDS IN CREATION.
HAMILTON'S PEARL OF RENOWN.
CHEEVER'S LECTURES ON COWPER.
MEMOIRS OF DR. KITTO.
EADIE ON COLOSSIANS.
OWEN ON HEBREWS.
MOORE ON HAGGAI, ZACHARIAH AND MALACHI.
SAMPSON ON HEBREWS.
ROBT. CARTER & BROTHERS, No. 285 Broadway.

IRVING'S LIFE OF WASHINGTON.
The second volume is now ready for delivery to subscribers.
Subscribers in the City will receive their copies in all instances, either from the parties who delivered them the first volume, or from the General Agent. If the second volume is sent by the General Agent, in all cases it will be accompanied by his bill. Should any subscriber be desirous of receiving the volume before the agent can deliver it, it will be supplied by the General Agent, at his office, No. 18 Gilsey Building. A few copies of the first and second volumes will be ready in a few days; volume III will follow shortly. CHARLES T. EVANS,
General Agent for the State, No. 18 Gilsey Building, corner of Broadway and Cortlandt-st.

PERSONS WISHING HOLIDAY BOOKS
Would do well to call at
PRICE'S UP-TOWN BOOK STORE,
And examine his splendid stock of ANNUALS for 1856.
Also, Prayer Books, bound in a variety of styles; Standard Works, Childrens' Books, Portfolios, Reticules, Workboxes, Gloves, Illustrated Maps, Puzzles, &c. All at the lowest cash price.
HENRY B. PRICE, No. 4 Everett House,
Nearest Bookstore to the Clarendon, Greenwich-st., Union-place, Bancroft and Everett Hotels.

GIFT BOOKS AT COST.
The undersigned intending to continue his business exclusively to the sale of his own publications after Jan. 1, offers for sale his entire stock of miscellaneous books, other than his own publications, at prime cost.
A GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR BARGAINS for the book-buying public.
J. C. DERBY, No. 119 Nassau-st.

NEW MUSIC.—"SPARKING SUNDAY NIGHT," by S. MARKSTEIN.—Mr. MARKSTEIN has certainly given us in this Song one of the most natural and taking melodies we have ever met with in a comic song. No one can hear the melody alone without laughing. There are other pieces of his music which we believe are better known with this. Ask for COOK & BROS. edition, composed by MARKSTEIN, with beautiful lithographic title. Price 25 cents. Mailed free.
COOK & BROTHERS, No. 365 Broadway.

STRONG'S new series of JUVENILE GIFT BOOKS, with splendid colored frontispiece, are the best to be accountable and useful holiday presents for children. The most choice and beautiful toy books of the kind, for sale cheap by the publisher. T. W. STRONG, No. 98 Nassau-st.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

[illegible]

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

[illegible]

AMUSEMENTS.

[illegible]

FOR SALE.

[illegible]

DIVIDENDS.

[illegible]

DIVIDENDS.

[illegible]

FINANCIAL.

[illegible]

BANK NOTICES.

[illegible]

INSURANCE.

[illegible]

INSTRUCTION.

[illegible]

DANCING.

[illegible]

HOUSES, &c., WANTED.

[illegible]

BUSINESS CHANCES.

[illegible]

LOST AND FOUND.

[illegible]

BOUNTY LANDS.

[illegible]

TO LET.

[illegible]

AUCTION SALES.

LEAVITT, DELISSER & CO., Auctioneers.

LARGE SALE OF VALUABLE AND OTHER DIAMOND, GOLD AND SILVER WATCHES, JEWELRY, &c. &c.

ALBERT H. NICOLAY.—Will sell, THIS DAY, Dec. 31, at 12½ o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange, for account of whom it may concern—

$4,000 Galena and Chicago Union 1st Mort.....$1,000 each
$1,000 Galena and Chicago Union Land Grant Bonds, $1,000 each
$10,000 City 5 per cent. Bonds.
$1,000 each
$1,000 each
$1,000 each

New-York Daily Times,

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Yesterday.

In the United States District Court yesterday some interesting cases were tried, though the attendance was small. Among them was one involving by Peter Cain, alias Peter Walker. Peter, though "an Irish sailor," is not a rough, at least in not always rough-like dress. He is well, and looks well; "fat and a little gray," it suits his convenience and pocket. He doesn't like to work, and yet he's "the most sympathetic creature of all the lower orders" only are guilty. But the other day, his purse and stomach being out of repair, he determined to replenish both in a way that many other eminent gentlemen before him have done. He went to the Hotel at No. 320 Pearl-street, which is kept by Mr. John Merritt, there engaged and secured for a short gentlemanly sojourn, and, by the way, "the best room in the house" was chosen. Peter was extremely polite—he put on the air of a "distinguished foreigner," and was very careful paying to the landlord, to whom he revealed his station and wealth. His bill upon arrival was not at all unreasonable in Vienna, and he had dined and wined with the Duke de Sauerkraut, escorted the Countess of Blarney to the opera, and his guest a roamer in her villa, on the banks of Lake Como. He usually concluded his pleasing conversation by borrowing of the delighted landlord a few dollars, as he "had no change with him just at that moment, and did not like to break a note." The things passed on agreeably for a few days, Mr. Walker getting in debt, and the landlord in expectation. At length the landlord seemed to hint to Peter that his bill was somewhat overdue; would he pay it? Mr. Walker remarked; he "had quite forgotten all about that little matter, but would pay it in a few moments when he was at leisure." The landlord was satisfied, and soon after Mr. Walker walked out, but forgot to walk back and settle his little bill, amounting to about $40. Mr. Merritt, thinking he did not treat his guest with such treatment from the distinguished stranger, who had honored him by accepting a room at his hotel, sent for a "policeman," and brought before Justice Osborne, who ordered him to a vile cell in the Tombs to await his trial. Mr. Walker was indignant at such treatment, and while being taken below, was heard to say that conduct was very ungentlemanly.

HOW A LAND-LOUSE GOT REMOVED.

A MAN AND A SMALL ONE.

Chas. Fair, a pretty fair specimen of a countryman, residing in Pine Road, Orange County, New-York, being in this City on a visit, took it into his head to visit the wonderful Five Points, and thither he wended on Saturday night amid the storm of sleet and rain. Having reached his destination he found about the streets roaming whom he might see, and was at length copied by a sympathizing fair one, who beckoned him from an upper story window to retire from the storm and partake of her hospitality. Mr. Fair not unwilling, accepted the kind invitation, and once within the house, he became more with the number of the house, hearted maiden and a few whisky punches. Having enjoyed himself to his time with the girl, or fancied before him, he proposed to her that he should be conducted that his watch, containing not to tank bill, had been taken from him in the scuffle. Mr. Fair became alarmed and fearing such conduct unfair became excited and fearing, and that he might have an opportunity to get out he was hustled out into the snow. Yesterday he went before Justice Osborne, told his melancholy tale, and demanded satisfaction. A warrant was placed in the hands of an officer for the arrest of the guilty one, and soon after a girl of 21, giving her name as Clara Belmont, and a native of Maine was brought in and identified by Mr. Fair as the person by whom he was deceived. Clara was committed to answer.

ATTEMPT TO KILL—SHOT THE WRONG MAN.

Joseph Brooke, residing at No. 1 Oak-street, and Alexander Lang had some difficulty about a business transaction, and Brooke, while intoxicated, resolved to end the matter by ending his adversary's existence. Accordingly on Saturday afternoon he procured a heavily-loaded pistol, sought for Lang, and on meeting him attempted to take his life, but instead took off his own thumb, and was afterwards taken by a Fourth Ward Officer to the City Hospital.

A GIRL POISONED BY ITS MOTHER THROUGH MISTAKE.

Mrs. Mary Glass, residing at No. 68 Washington-street, having occasion, on Saturday last, to be absent from home for a short time, administered to her infant, about two months old, seven or eight drops of laudanum to keep it quiet during her absence. On returning, two hours after, she found her child in a sound sleep, and was unable to awake him. Becoming alarmed, she sent for two physicians, but they were unable to resuscitate the child, who soon after slept the sleep of death.

GUILTY OF THE AFFRAY.

A young man giving his name as Charles Jackson, was brought up by Officer Fitzgerald, of the First Ward, who said he caught him on Saturday, in the act of attempting to steal from an express wagon which was standing in front of the express office, No. 59 Broadway. Jackson was committed.

BOWERY MARKET.

A REMOCOCIOUS BOY.

Henry Turner, a "wee bit" of a fellow, about 12 years of age, left the house of his parents, No. 7 Cannon-street, a few days since, because he was "put out" about something. When leaving, he said he would never return, but would go out and get his own living. He succeeded in getting his living and other people's property very well, but rather unfairly, for a few days. He succeeded in getting three drums from the keeper of a musical instrument store in Maiden-lane, by falsely representing that he had been sent for them by a well-known band-master, and afterwards visited a jewelry store in Williamsburg, and induced the proprietor to intrust him with a gold locket and chain, which he said his mother wanted to purchase, after school hours. He also obtained a number of costly pocket-knives, from another storekeeper in the same place, under the plea that his father wanted to make a selection from them. He afterwards visited a hall at the City Assembly Rooms, to which he gained ingress by playing the confidence game with the doorkeeper. When the supper was announced, he managed to get admission thereto without paying the fee. In the morning he accompanied to her home in the lower part of Broadway a young miss to whom he had been introduced during the evening, and with whom he had danced several sets. Before leaving her, he presented her with the gold locket and chain which he had procured in Williamsburg, and promised to call and see her again. But here the young hero's career of villany was suddenly nipped, for soon after he was arrested by an officer and taken before Justice Woom, at the Essex Market Police Court, who, on hearing the charges against him, committed him for trial. The young prisoner owned up his transgressions—told how the property had been disposed of, and promised if he could get out of his present difficulty to sin no more. He was born in England.

About a year ago he ran away from home and took refuge among the soldiers on Governor's Island, where he spent two months and was taught how to drum. Although he is a very smart boy, and will, no doubt, make a noise in the world one of these days.

BURGLARS DISTURBED WHILE AT WORK.

On Saturday morning, about 5½ o'clock, some burglars effected an entrance into the dwelling of Mr. Waldron, residing in Eighty-fourth street, near Second-avenue. Their operations were overheard by Mr. Waldron, who, in coming down stairs, alarmed the rascals, who fled and escaped, although closely pursued down Second-avenue by Mr. Waldron and Officer Murphy. The rascals, it is thought, ran down to the East River and escaped in a boat. During the absence of Murphy, officers Crowley, Shangle and Savery searched the neighborhood for the burglars in vain. They found, however, the hall doors of three dwellings open, but upon awaking the inmates in order to ascertain if anything had been carried off, nothing was missed by any of the occupants, in one instance the officers went all through a house before the people awoke. All of the tenants stated that their doors had been properly secured and fastened before the families retired for the night.

All that can be learned as to who the burglars were was gathered from a driver of one of the Third-avenue railroad cars. He says that on the 13 o'clock trip last night he carried up four young men, one of whom is a well-known thief, who formerly resided in the vicinity for some time. The only article at present missed is an umbrella, which was taken from a house on Fourth-avenue, between Eighty-fourth and Eighty-fifth streets.

Another Foundling.

A little boy about two weeks old was abandoned by its unnatural mother on Friday night, in the area of house No. 34 Bond-street. The little abandoned was kindly cared for until he could be placed in charge of the Governors of the Almshouse.

Killed by a Fall.

PATRICK NEGRET, an Irish laborer, aged twenty-eight years, fell, on Saturday, from the roof of the new building now erecting for the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Carmansville, and was almost instantly killed. An inquest was held on the body yesterday by Coroner O'Donnell.

[Advertisement.]

☞ The KNOX Hat is a designation that at once conveys an idea of something beautiful and becoming to the wearer, and stamps him as a gentleman of good taste and discernment. This is true, more particularly of the styles issued by KNOX for the present season. Those who would see a hat that combined every positive beauty, and that has no rival in general appearance, should call at KNOX's only salesroom, No. 212 Broadway, northeast corner of Fulton-street.

[Advertisement.]

BRADY'S GALLERY.—Open New-Year, No. 359 Broadway, over Thompson's Saloon.

[Advertisement.]

BIGELOW, BLAKESLEE, &c., 323 BOWERY.—It is a positive fact that Fancy Goods, No. 323 Bowery, corner of Third-street, is selling off its great stock of Groceries, Wines, hand-screens, gloves, &c., at a most extraordinary auction. No imposition, simply early in the season, an unusual and variety whatever unsurpassed before in New-York. His sales have been astonishingly heavy, because he sold goods that could not be paralleled for beauty and quality, and because he sold at a small profit. He has still, however, a great stock on hand, and as constant novelty is his leading principle in business, he prefers to sell at less than cost in order to close the entire concern and open with new goods, rather than keep them on hand till they become stale, and trust to casual sales for reimbursement. He is now actually selling ladies' dress-trimmings, on that account, for one shilling per yard, that cost in Europe three francs, or nearly sixty cents, to purchase. His embellishments for evening dresses, his hair ornaments, his ribbons, &c., are being sold on the same capital terms for the public. LIONSMITH is the only dealer who will work for nothing rather than keep an old stock on hand. Now is the time, look for bargains. Never were such goods sold at such prices before.

[Advertisement.]

COOPER'S REFINED SHEET ISINGLASS—For Blanc Mange, Table Jellies, &c. A good and cheap article for confectioners', hotel and family use. To be obtained in large or small quantities (with directions for using) of the principal grocers and druggists throughout the United States.

PETER COOPER, No. 17 Burling-slip.

[Advertisement.]

PHRENOLOGY.—A private class will be formed at at the Phrenological Cabinet of FOWLER and WELLS, No. 308 Broadway, on the 3d of January. Ladies and Gentlemen may then obtain a practical knowledge of this most valuable and interesting science. Examinations with Charts and written descriptions of character given daily.

[Advertisement.]

☞ Will be ready for exhibition on Saturday morning, at H. MAILLARD'S, No. 621 Broadway, a grand assortment suitable for New Year's tables, such as fruit cake, plum cake, lemon cake, almond cake, (all sizes,) pyramids, charlotte russe and meringue, boned turkey, game patti with truffles, will be sold at moderate prices. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine this assortment.

[Advertisement.]

THE GREAT INHALING REMEDY FOR ASTHMA, Consumption, and all diseases of the throat and lungs—Dr. CURTIS' Hygeana. Thousands have been restored to health the past year by the Hygeana. Principal office No. 349 Broadway, and sold by C. H. KING, No. 195 Broadway. Price only $3 a package. Dr. CURTIS will be at the office daily, from 10 to 3 o'clock, where he may be consulted free of charge.

[Advertisement.]

HOSIERY AND UNDERGARMENTS,
THE BEST GOODS!
THE LOWEST PRICES!
THE GREATEST ASSORTMENT!

Those in want of seasonable Hosiery and Under-Garments, should visit EARLE'S OLD STAND, No. 104 Bowery.

[Advertisement.]

THE SNUFF OF THE DAY.—DUBINO'S celebrated Catarrh Snuff has searching, soothing and healing qualities essentially different from all other Catarrh Snuff. For sale, by the single box, at all retail drug stores, wholesale, by S. PAUL & Co., HEGEMAN, CLARK & Co., BURROUGH, CORNELISON, and BARNES & PARK, New-York City, and by GEO. P. MILNE, Brooklyn, N. Y.

[Advertisement.]

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT AND THE KING OF SARDINIA.—Permission was given (by royal letters patent) for the use of these valuable remedies throughout Sardinia, in consequence of his Majesty being cured by their means of an ulcer in the leg. Any wound or ulcer will readily yield to their mighty influence.

[Advertisement.]

DUSSELDORF GALLERY, No. 497 BROADWAY.—This delightful place of resort will be open to the public on New-Year's day and evening. It combines more attractions, in the Fine Arts, than any other similar exhibition in this country. It will be an attractive place to visit on New-Year's day, and should not be forgotten among the "Lions" of the City.

[Advertisement.]

TEAS.—The best assortment of fine Teas will be found at the Canton Tea Company's newly-erected and elegant store, No. 125 Chatham-street, (between Pearl and Roosevelt streets,) the oldest Tea establishment in the City. We assure our readers they can do better here than elsewhere, either at wholesale or retail.

[Advertisement.]

NOTA BENE—HOLIDAYS.—Tremendous bargains at EVANS' Clothing Warehouse, Nos. 65 and 68 Fulton-street; for example: beautiful pure white Silk Vests, worth $6, at $3; best Silk Velvet Vests at $5; handsome black cloth Surtout Overcoats, $12; black cloth Shanghae Frock Coats, $8, &c.

[Advertisement.]

DISEASES OF THE EYE AND EAR—REMOVAL.—Dr. FRANCIS SALTER, M. D., M. R. C. S., London and Edinburg, has removed to No. 16 Bond-street, New-York, where he may hereafter be consulted from 8 to 12 o'clock A. M., and 2 to 8 o'clock P. M. Patients requiring attendance at their residences will be visited during the intervening hours.

[Advertisement.]

PURDY'S NATIONAL THEATRE.—This being New-Year's Eve an extra attractive bill has been prepared at this favorite Theatre. The grand Irish Historical Drama of "O'Neal the Great," the drama of the "Wizard Skiff," and the pantomime of the "Magic Barrel" are to be performed.

[Advertisement.]

DIETETIC SALERATUS.—A purely wholesome article, with a double amount of raising properties. It will save many from afflictions brought on by the common saleratus. No family should be without it. Manufactured by JAMES PYLE, No. 114 Warren-street, and sold by all the grocers.

[Advertisement.]

☞ The New Pen and Pencil, "LOWND'S Patent," is of most exquisite workmanship and finish, very ingenious in construction and not liable to get out of order. Made in Gold and Silver, by WILMARTH, No. 44 Maiden-lane, and sold at reasonable prices. A splendid article for Holiday trade.

[Advertisement.]

☞ A beautiful complexion and a perfumed breath may both be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." As a dentifrice it has no parallel. Price fifty cents. For sale at the stores of HEGEMAN, CLARKE & Co., Broadway, and all druggists.

[Advertisement.]

☞ The Great Exhibition of Photographs—for which the Gold Medal was awarded at the late Fair of the American Institute—is now to be seen at the Gallery of GURNEY & PESSENICKER, No. 349 Broadway.

[Advertisement.]

GOLD MEDAL.—The only gold medal awarded for colored Photographs at the last Fair of the American Institute was to ROOT, No. 363 Broadway, corner of Franklin-street.

[Advertisement.]

☞ The only Gold Medal awarded for Daguerreotypes, at the late Fair of the American Institute, was to J. GURNEY. The specimens can now be seen at his Palace of Art, No. 349 Broadway.

[Advertisement.]

ANOTHER TRIUMPH.—The only Medal for Daguerreotypes at the Great Exhibition, at Paris, was warded to J. GURNEY, No. 349 Broadway.

[Advertisement.]

☞ HYATT'S Patent Lights, 120 West Broadway, New-York. See advertisement on fifth page.

MARRIED.

In this City, on Thursday, Dec. 20, at the residence of the bride's father, No. 20 King-st., by Rev. Dr. McElroy, JOHN KENT to ESTHER, eldest daughter of Hugh Martin, Esq.

On Monday evening, Dec. 24, by Rev. Dr. Chrystie, Mr. JAMES WALLACE to Miss ELIZABETH KING, daughter of William King, Esq., all of this City.

In Brooklyn, on Tuesday, Dec. 27, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. J. J. Bell, Mr. J. H. FROST to Miss SARAH A. PARKER, only daughter of Peter Parker, Esq., all of Brooklyn.

At Little Ferry, N. J., on Thursday, Dec. 27, by Rev. A. Warner, ROBERT MOUNT, of Hoboken, to MARGARET TEN EYCK STAGG, of the former place.

DIED.

In this City, on Sunday, Dec. 30, after a lingering illness, Mr. SAMUEL D. FREEMAN, in the 44th year of his age.

His relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend his funeral, this day, (Monday,) at 2 o'clock P. M., from the residence of his father, Mr. Daniel Freeman, No. 271 West 14th-st. The friends of the family are invited to attend without further notice.

In this City, on Sunday evening, Dec. 29, MARIETTA, youngest daughter of Daniel T. and Mary M. Maxfield, aged 1 year, 3 months and 14 days.

Funeral this (Monday) morning, at 10 o'clock, at No. 48 Amity-st. The remains will be taken to Newburg, for interment.

In this City, on Saturday, Dec. 29, JANE O'HARA, youngest daughter of James P. and Caroline Shaw, aged 1 year and 9 months.

The relatives and friends of the family are invited to attend her funeral, from the residence of her parents, No. 161 East 20th-st., this day, (Monday,) at 10 o'clock P. M., without further invitation.

In Brooklyn, on Saturday, Dec. 29, ROBERT, infant son of John and Elizabeth Baker, aged 3 years and 6 months.

The friends of the family are requested to attend his funeral, this day, (Monday,) at 2 o'clock P. M., from the residence of his father, No. 170 Adams-st., Brooklyn.

At St. Joseph's College, Susquehanna Co., Pa., on Friday, Dec. 28, JOHNNY PETER MULLIGAN, son of Dr. Alf. Thomas Mulligan, of Brooklyn, aged 6 years and 6 months.

His funeral will take place this day, from No. 98 Congress-st., Brooklyn, at 2 o'clock P. M. The friends of the family are invited to attend, without further invitation.

At Staten Island, on Saturday night, Dec. 29, of croup, CHARLES CHARLES HENRY, son of Louis Henry and Constance Thérèse Delmas, aged 21 months.

The funeral will leave Staten Island by the 2 o'clock ferry boat, this (Monday) afternoon, for Greenwood.

At Yonkers, on Friday morning, Dec. 28, at 6¼ o'clock, SUSAN BALDWIN, wife of Wm. O. Waring, in the 44th year of her age.

The funeral will take place from her late residence, on Monday, 31st inst., at 2 o'clock P. M. The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend, without further notice.

COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

For Markets see Third Page.

Sales at the Stock Exchange, Dec. 29.

$6,000 Tennessee 6s, '90	96¾	100	Erie Railroad	...s3	49
1,000 Indiana State 5s	81½	100	do	.....	49¾
2,000 Virginia 6s	96¾	150	do	.....	49⅞
2,000 Missouri 6s	89¾	100	do	.....	49⅞
10,000 do	89¾	100	do	...bf 3s	49
2,000 do	87⅞	200	do	...s10	49⅛
5,000 do	88	100	do	...s30	49⅛
5,000 R. Ins M. Bds.	80	50	do	...s10	49⅛
6,000 Erie Bds. of '75	87	100	do	...s15	50
4,000 Hud. Can. Bds.	68	100	do	...s30	50
25,000 Ill. Cen. R. Bds.	89	100	do	...s30	50¼
1,000 do	88 81¾	100	do	...bf 3s	50⅜
14,000 do	82	100	do	...s30	50⅜
1,000 do	82 81¾	200	do	.....	50⅜
24,000 do	81	100	do	...s30	50
5,000 do	80 81¼	100	do	...s10	50
12,000 do	80 81¼	50	do	...s3	50
1,000 do	80 81¼	50	do	...s30	50
3,100 N. Y. Cen. Sc.	99¾	100	do	.....	50
600 Nia. Transit Co.	19	100	do	...b60	50⅜
100 do	100 19¼	200	do	...s10	50⅜
50 Del. & Hud. Can.	118	100	Chic. & R. I. R.R.	.....	85¾
50 Ocean Bank	93¾	100	do	.....	85
100 Hudson R. R.	20¼	100	do	.....	85¼
100 Mich. So. & No. I. R.	99	850	Cumb. Coal Co.	.....	23¾
50 do	b12 22¾	100	do	.....	b30 23
50 do	60 22¾	100	do	.....	23¾
200 do	21¾	70	N. Y. Cen. R. R.	bs0	91¾
200 do	b30 22	100	Reading Railroad	.....	90¾
50 Panama Railroad	b 108	2100	do	.....	90¾
150 do	109¾	100	do	...b7	90¾
100 Ill. Cen. Railroad	96¾	200	do	.....	90¾
200 do	b3 96¾	100	do	.....	90¾
200 Clev. & Tol. R. R.	b0 72¾	100	do	.....	b30 91
300 do	71¾	200	do	.....	b30 91¼

SECOND BOARD.

$6,000 Missouri 6s	87¾	100	Clev. & Tol. R. R.	.....	71¾
5,000 Ill. Cen. R. Bs.	81¾	100	do	...b60	72¼
8,000 do	81	100	Erie Railroad	.....	49¾
12,000 do	80 81¾	100	do	.....	50
50 Canton Company	39¾	100	do	...b3	50¾
100 Nic. Trans. Co.	b10 19¾	200	do	.....	50¾
700 do	19	200	do	...b30	50¾
100 do	b60 19¾	100	do	.....	s3 50¾
956 Cumb. Coal Co.	23¾	100	do	.....	b60 51
400 do	23¾	6	do	.....	50¾
38 N. Y. Cen. R.R.	91¾	50	do	.....	50¾
200 Reading Railroad	91¾	100	do	.....	s30 50¾
100 Hudn. Riv. R. R.	b10 21	100	do	.....	b30 50¾

MONDAY, Dec. 31—A. M.

The past week was one of extreme closeness in Money affairs, particularly the closing three days. The Brokers, who depend on demand loans, encountered considerable difficulty in making up their bank accounts, and in Stock operations heavy differences were paid on contracts to run into January. The pressure is not unusual in the holiday week at the close of the year, though on the present occasion the annoyance to borrowers was more generally felt than we have known it to be for several years past. The Stock market, nevertheless, ruled pretty steady throughout the week; the only serious decline being for an hour or two on Saturday, when advantage was taken by the Bears of the accounts from Europe, which, in a political sense, were not deemed quite so encouraging as anticipated, and of the closeness of Money loans. The fall on Erie was 1@1¼ ₱ cent.; on Reading, 1@1½ ₱ cent., as compared with the rates earlier in the week, and on some other Stocks in like proportion; but in the afternoon the decline was partly recovered, and the general market closed firm. After 2 o'clock the supply of Money was found to be a little more liberal, and accounts were made up with less trouble than on Friday. The California remittances, which, with the gold and drafts on the Sub-Treasury, exceed two millions of dollars, were favorably felt before the close of the day. The Banks were heavily drawn upon from the West and the neighboring cities, during the week. Their correspondents in New-Jersey and Maryland make up their annual statements for the 1st of January, and balances were drawn for in gold.

COMPARATIVE STOCK MOVEMENT OF THE WEEK.

	Saturday, Dec. 22.	Saturday, Dec. 29.
New-York Central	92	91¼@ 91¾
Erie Stock	50¾	49¾@ 50¾
Reading	90¾	90¾@ 91¾
Toledo	72	71¾@ 72¼
Galena	122	121¼@121¾
Michigan Central	97¼	96¾@ 97
Southern Michigan	94¾	91¼@ 92
Panama	104¾	104¾@104¾
Illinois Centrals	81¾	81 @ 81¾
Virginia	97¼	96¾@ 96¾
Missouris	88	87¾@ 87¾
Transit Company	18¾	18 @ 18¼

The outside figures show the closing sales of the week.

The Discount rates outside of Bank ruled steady through the week at 9@12 ₱ cent. for prime to fair paper. The pressure was mainly felt on demand loans, owing to the preparations for the January dividends and the drafts upon the Banks to pay Custom duties and interior Bank balances, which were heavier than for some weeks past. There was every reasonable sign at the close of the day on Saturday, that this temporary pressure is at an end, or that its inconvenience will be less felt to-day and on Wednesday.

The Foreign Bill market experienced a decided break down on Saturday, evidences of which were apparent the day before. The supply of first class Sterling and of France is large, and the demand much below the anticipations for the Boston steamer. There was nothing done for ready cash over 108⅜ on London or 5.20 on Paris, and bills were freely offered at a concession of ¼@⅜ ₱ cent. on these figures. The Collins steamer, as heretofore noticed will sail on Saturday next, 5th inst., which opportunity will cause the Boston mail to be lighter than it would otherwise have been. Tuesday being a close holiday, the mail will be made up by most remitters to-day.

The Foreign Trade returns at the port of New-York for the past week, show an Import of Merchandise, including the Dry Goods taken in our last paper, of $2,754,188, against $2,572,000 same week last year. The present return completes the unofficial weekly total for the year 1856. They differ somewhat from the monthly officials furnished from the Custom House. These will be completed by the addition of the month of December in the course of a few days, both on the Import and Export list, and will then be presented in an official form, under an annual general review of the Commerce of the Port of New-York, for the year 1855. Our weekly returns are:

Total Imports for 1855	$148,050,000
Total Imports for 1856	176,856,000
Decrease	$ 28,806,000
In Dry Goods	$15,377,000
General Merchandise	13,429,000—$28,806,000

The Export of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods for the past week amounted to $1,651,598, against $1,417,000 same week last year. The total, according to our unofficial weekly statements for the year 1855, is $70,572,000, against $65,442,000 to close of last week in December, 1854. The Export of Specie for the week is $364,796. There was no export reported the corresponding week last year. The total from the port of New-York for 1855 is $27,660,000, against $36,941 in 1854. From the ports of New-York and Boston together the total is $42,281,00, against $48,779,000 in 1854. The deliveries of California Gold the past week amounted to $1,945,063, including the manifest of the Nicaragua steamer, arrived on Saturday afternoon, $527,676. The deliveries the last week in December were $1,461,698. The total deliveries by steamer manifest, in 1855, are $60,318,776 against $48,151,418—the deficiency having occurred previous to 30th June, and resulting from the break-up among the San Francisco bankers in February and March. The entire Gold product of California, during the year 1855, is reckoned at $58,813,000 against $57,715,000 in 1854. There was $26,499,000 minted at the Branch Mint at San Francisco, of which about $8,000,000 returned in coin to the interior of the State. The regular Sub-Treasury balance on Saturday afternoon stood $4,068,070 against $4,847,173 at the close of the previous week. But as $861,000, transferred to the Interest Department yet remains in the Office, there was an actual accumulation in the Government Office of about seven hundred thousand dollars. This sum, and the export to Europe, as above, together with a difference against the City in the Interior Gold exchanges of $300,000 to $500,000 will all make against the Bank Average of Specie to be returned this afternoon, as no part of the heavy receipts from California reached the Banks until Saturday. The last reserve was $12,088,850.

The following is a comparative statement of the Export of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods for the Week and the Corresponding week of last year:

	1854. Quantity.	1854. Value.	1855. Quantity.	1855. Value.
Cotton, bales	6,541	$268,121	1,298	$60,547
Flour, bbls	12,856	121,780	24,847	128,778
Corn Meal, bbls. and tcs.	275	617	793	1,164
Wheat, bushs	2,135	4,094	316,692	428,231
Corn, bushs	159,648	147,325	27,222	27,609
Pork, bbls. & tcs.	5,619	116,043	3,131	60,017
Beef, bbls. and tcs.	6,260	126,620	1,452	15,773
Total Produce		$831,750		$1,141,565
Miscellaneous		585,849		509,793
Total for the week		$1,417,600		$1,651,598

Our notice on Saturday caused over $250,000 of the New-York State Fives due 1st January to be presented, in advance, to the Manhattan Company for payment. In addition to this sum, $1,200,000 was presented and exchanged for the new loan, from the Bank Department at Albany, through Mr. RUFUS H. KING, President of the State Bank at Albany, and a further amount will appear this evening through the City Bank of Albany. Mr. THOMPSON sold about $170,000 on Saturday of the new loan, the whole of which goes into the Bank Department and some of the Savings Institutions. The Albany Evening Journal of Saturday remarks:

Bankers are availing themselves of the New State 5 ₱ cent. Stock, issued on the 18th inst., and due Jan. 1, 1874, as a basis for Banking purposes. Out of $1,700,000, secured by Mr. RUFUS H. KING, of this city, over $1,000,000 have been deposited by him in the Bank Department, in trust for Banks and Bankers, who have purchased of him since the award; and Mr. K. has withdrawn from thence, in payment, upwards of $1,000,000 of the New-York State 5 ₱ cent. Stock, maturing 1st of January next; and some $200,000 of Government Securities of various kinds. The New-York State Stocks, about due, will be redeemed at the Manhattan Company's Bank, New-York. The U. S. Stocks have been forwarded to Washington, for redemption, at the premium offered by the Secretary of the Treasury. From the above figures, we infer, that Mr. KING still holds a limited amount of the New-York 5s of '74.

The banking and commercial letters received by the Pacific add but little to the accounts already published. There would seem to be less anxiety, as well as less confidence in peace in England among business people than in France and scarcely so much as the newspaper reports would warrant. Our readers will, perhaps, have noticed in certain extracts from the London press, an inclination to something like jealousy of the prowess and laurels of the French army and its Commander in the Crimea. We learn that some of the London mercantile letters go so far as to express the apprehension that France is not only over-anxious for peace at this time, before another vigorous campaign shall afford England the opportunity to assert her martial strength, if not superiority, but that NAPOLEON and the CZAR may be found in political accord, as against England before the end of the new year. Other letters refer to some anxiety to hear definitely from our President's Message; the rumored contents of which had appeared in the London papers.

The Pacific's news served the Breadstuff trade on Saturday. A livelier business was transacted in Flour, at a partial advance of 6¼c. ₱ bbl.; and in Corn at full rates. Wheat and Rye were inactive,—holders asking prices above the views of buyers. Cotton was in fair demand and ruled firm. Groceries continued quiet and otherwise unchanged. Greater depression was apparent in Provisions. Mess Pork fell to $18 ₱ bbl., and was lightly purchased thereat. Lard and Beef were quiet and rather languid. Freights revived a little,—a slightly increased business at steadier, though not materially higher, rates, having been reported.

Mr. ALBERT H. NICOLAY'S regular semi-weekly auction sale of Stocks and Bonds will take place this day, (Monday,) at 12½ o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange.

The Dividend Payments on Wednesday, 2d January, are being advertised by the various Banks and Banking establishments, through which they are to be made. We compile the following notices, this morning, from the lists which have thus far been made known, and expect to add to the catalogue in our next paper. We shall feel indebted for any further memoranda that may be sent to the DAILY TIMES Office in the course of the day:

BY ASSISTANT TREASURER UNITED STATES.
On the Public Debt of the United States.
BY STATE AGENT OF OHIO, BEAVER-STREET.
On the Public Debt of the State of Ohio.
BY WINSLOW, LANIER & CO., BANKERS.
Banking Bonds of the State of Indiana.
Pittsburg City to Ohio and Pennsylvania Road.
Pittsburg City to Carnellsville Road.
Allegany City to Ohio and Pennsylvania Road.
Cleveland City to Marietta Road.
Marietta City to the same road.
New-Albany City to the same road.
Harmer Town to Marietta Road.
Franklin County, Ohio, to Cleveland Road.
Franklin County, Ohio, to Xenia Road.
Greene County, Ohio, to Xenia Road.
Stark County, Ohio, to Ohio and Penn. Road.
Rockland County, Ohio, to same road.
Allegany County, Penn., to Cornellsville Road.
Ross County, Ohio, to Marietta Road.
Athens County, Ohio, to same road.
Washington County, Ohio, to same road.
Van Wert County, Ohio, to Indiana road.
Allen County, Ohio, to same road.
Crawford County, Ohio, to same road.
Allen County, Indiana, to same road.
Champaign County, Ohio, to Piqua Road.
Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad Mortgages.
Marietta and Cincinnati First Mortgage.
Fort Wayne and Chicago First Mortgage.
Indiana Central Income Bonds.
City of Covington to Lexington Road.
Bellefontaine and Indiana Company Bonds.
Dayton and Michigan Company Bonds.
Dayton and Michigan Railroad Mortgages.
Indianapolis and Bellefontaine Mortgages.
Cleveland and Columbus Dividend.
Wheeling City to the Hampdeld Road.
BY ATWOOD & CO., BANKERS.
Zanesville City, Ohio, Bonds.
Milwaukee and Mississippi Bonds.
La Crosse and Milwaukee Farm Mortgages.
BY UNDERWOOD & SONS, BROKERS.
Boston and Montreal Railroad Bonds.
BY CLEVELAND AND TOLEDO RAILROAD COMPANY.
On Bonds of Cleveland and Toledo Road.
BY BANK OF COMMERCE.
Bank of Commerce half yearly dividend.
Bonds of State of Missouri to Pacific Railroad.
Bank Bonds of State of Missouri.
BY AMERICAN EXCHANGE BANK.
Two ₱ cent. on Illinois Debt, after 7th January.
BY BANK OF REPUBLIC.
State Debt of Commonwealth of Virginia.
BY BANK OF AMERICA.
State Debt of Kentucky.
BY MERCHANTS' BANK.
State Debt of Tennessee.
State Debt of Alabama.
BY MANHATTAN COMPANY.
Principal due on New-York State fives.
Interest on Debt of New-York.
New-York [illegible] Convertible Bonds, 1867.
BY OHIO LIFE AND TRUST COMPANY.
Ionia Railroad, Newark Township, C. R. R.
Salem County, Salem Township.
Belmont County, Belmont Township.
Morrow County, Orange Township.
Fairfield County, Clay Township.
Guernsey County, Green Creek Township.
Little Miami Railroad, Monroe Township.
Cleveland and Pittsburg, Oxford Township.
Charlotte Valley Railroad, Coshocton County.
Xenia Town'p to Dayton, Tuscarawas Township.
Silver Creek Township, Lafayette Township.
Twsp of Bipsie, Franklin Township.
City of Portsmouth, City of Steubenville.
City of Toledo, Steubenville Township.
Portland Township, Jefferson Township.
Newark Township, P. R. Newark Township.
BY JOHN COOK, JR., NO. 21 BROADWAY.
On San Francisco School and Fire Bonds.
Contra Costa County Bonds.
State Bonds of California.
BY BLOOD & CO., NO. 56 WALL-STREET.
On Peoria City Bonds.
BY BANK OF ALBANY.
On Troy and Rutland First Mortgages.
BANK DIVIDENDS.
Continental 4 ₱ cent., Jan. 2.
Bank of America, 4 ₱ cent., Jan. 2.
Mechanics' Bank, 4 ₱ cent., Jan. 4.
Peoples' Bank, 4 ₱ cent., Jan. 2.
Tradesmen's Bank, 3 ₱ cent., Jan. 2.
Emigrant Savings Bank, 6 ₱ cent., Jan. 21.
Market Bank, 4 ₱ cent., Jan. 10.
Metropolitan Bank, 4 ₱ cent., Jan. 7.

We understand that the Board of Directors of the Southern Michigan Road Company, after due conference, have determined to confine their January half-yearly dividend (to be paid 15th prox.) to Five ₱ cent. in cash, without dividing to the old stockholders the surplus earnings previous to the incorporation of the Construction Stock next year. This surplus, said to be equal to 3 or 4 ₱ cent., instead of being made into a scrip dividend, will be applied to charging off to profit and loss, part of the lake steamboat property of the Company, which has become depreciated in value. The same policy was adopted by the New-York Central to the extent of $100,000. The Southern Michigan is thus made a clear 10 ₱ cent. Stock for the year 1855, after paying 7 ₱ cent. to the bondholders and 8 ₱ cent. on the Construction Stock, without resort to scrip dividends in any shape.

The Panama Company received by the steamer's mail on Saturday the most encouraging reports of their traffic in November, and of the growing business in freights over their Road. The trade opening up between the Southwest coast of the Pacific and Australia, as well as California and the Atlantic side is one of the utmost importance, and promises for more than the projectors of this great improvement contemplated for years to come. There are numerous French and English vessels arriving at Aspinwall, with cargoes for the Pacific side, while the trade from this city is rapidly on the increase. The business from the Mexican coast on the Pacific also promises a very remunerating profit. By the same mail the proprietors of the new line of New-Granada steamers on the river Magdalena received advices of a cheering character; so that altogether American enterprise in that quarter promises to be rewarded with a rich return in the shape of dividends upon the capital invested. The Panama Company will not divide less than 1 ₱ cent. a month this year. They have already paid 6 ₱ cent., January to June inclusive.

The Marine Bank of Chicago, and the Banking firms of R. R. SWIFT & Co., and OFFICER & Co. have promptly assented to the request of the Chicago merchants to throw out the Georgia Wild Cat money after the